HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—Republicanism today strengthened its hold upon Pennsylvania, long-time citadel of the G. O. P., sweeping into office under an avalanche of votes Edward Martin, 63, retired major general, and the rest of the state ticket and securing control of the General Assembly and the congressional delegation.

Martin's majority over his Democratic rival, Auditor General P. Clair Ross, was more than 230,000 and was still rising as the returns continued to pour in from the state's 8,135 precincts.

The vote for governor, with 8,040 precincts reported, was:
Martin, 1,477,000.
Ross, 1,241,000.

Ross Concedes Defeat
The Democratic standard-bearer conceded defeat shortly after midnight, asserting that "on the basis of unofficial and incomplete returns, it appears that General Martin has been elected."

"I congratulate him and pledge to him and to the people of this Commonwealth by every ounce of energy towards the accomplishment of something infinitely greater—the defeat of the Axis powers and the triumph of our arms in this war,"

Clare Boothe Luce Goes To Congress

(International News Service)
GREENWICH, Conn., Nov. 4.—Democratic Clare Boothe Luce, victorious over Democratic Congressman LeRoy D. Downs, today became the first woman ever elected to represent Connecticut in Congress and promised to do everything possible to end the "soft war" tactics she has attributed to the Roosevelt administration.

As her margin of triumph gradually increased, the petite and exceedingly pretty playwright-journalist pledged herself to see that a "hard war" is fought "efficiently and without bungling."

Unofficial returns gave the slim, outspoken Clare 63,365 votes against 56,929, a margin of 6,436.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Election of Thomas E. Dewey, Republican, as governor of New York, ending 20 years of Democratic rule, today threw the Democratic party in this pivotal state into a condition verging upon political chaos.

Dewey's smashing victory by a plurality of more than 500,000 votes hit two ways. It was construed by unbiased observers as a blow both to James A. Farley, who sponsored the losing Democratic nominee, John J. Bennett, and to President Roosevelt, who belatedly gave his all-out endorsement to Bennett. Mr. Roosevelt preferred another aspirant—Senator James M. Mead—to Bennett for governor.

Bearing On 1944 Race
The Dewey victory unquestionably will have an important bearing upon the 1944 presidential campaign.

Democrats Lose House Control In Pennsylvania

Republicans To Control House
First Time Since 1939
Returns Indicate

By JOHN PAGET
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 4.—The Republican party today apparently had seized full control of Pennsylvania's legislature for the first time since 1939, on the basis of incomplete election returns.

In the House of Representatives, where the entire membership of 208 was at stake, the G. O. P. already has captured 90 seats and the Democrats 44. A majority of 105 is necessary to control the lower chamber. The Democrats have dominated the House, 126 to 82, since 1941.

In the Senate, controlled by the Republicans, 32 to 18, since 1941, the G. O. P. has won 10 of the 23 seats at stake and the Democrats four. Only half of the 50 seats were to be filled at yesterday's balloting. Unofficial returns indicated that the Republicans would pick up enough votes to give them the two-thirds vote necessary to confirm gubernatorial nominations. During the last two sessions they lacked two votes.

When the 1943 session of the General Assembly convenes in January, the Senate will be presided over by John C. Bell, Jr., of Philadelphia, the lieutenant-governor-elect and present secretary of banking. The House will elect a speaker from the Republican majority, to succeed Elmer Kilroy, of Philadelphia, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor, who did not seek re-election to the House.

Lawrence County stayed solidly in the Republican ranks in the election on Tuesday November 3, and did something it has not done since 1930, gave a majority to the entire Republican ticket in both the city and county. The result was far beyond the expectations of Republican leaders, but it was in line with the political upheaval which shook the country yesterday and saw the Republican party victorious in so many sections.

General Edward Martin, Republican governor-elect, against whom the brunt of the Democratic attack was directed, scored a decisive victory in Lawrence County. His vote for the 100 precincts in the county was 13,123, as against 8,684 for his Democratic opponent F. Clair Ross.

New Castle Republican

In the City of New Castle General Martin was high also, carrying the city by a vote of 6,528 to 4,910. In 1938 Governor Arthur H. James carried Lawrence County but did not carry the city.

New Castle did something else in the election, it elected Alderman James C. Brice, Republican to the General Assembly. Mr. Brice will be the first Republican to represent New Castle in the General Assembly since the special session of 1932. His vote was 6,432 as against 5,057.

German Armies Beaten Back On Russian Front

By W. W. CHAPLIN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
MOSCOW, Nov. 4.—German armies were beaten back today by Soviet forces on all active sectors of the Russian front.

Nazi attacks inside besieged Stalingrad and southeast of Nalchik in the mid Caucasus were repelled while to the northwest of Tuapse in the west Caucasus Red army defense forces recorded new gains.

Dispatches from the Stalingrad front said that Russian defense forces had relieved the German pressure in the factory area in the northern suburbs by sending in reinforcements across the Volga river who evacuated during night landings above the city.

Stem Nazi Onslaught
The Soviet high command issued a communique at noon in which it was stated that Russian troops were locked in defensive fighting southeast of Nalchik after stemming a Nazi onslaught aimed at driving on the important Georgian military highway, gateway to the oil fields of Tiflis and Baku.

All German assaults in the Stalingrad area were repelled, the communique said.

Northwest of Stalingrad Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's relief army continued to consolidate positions recaptured from the German mechanized hordes.

Russian forces battling to save the west Caucasus port and naval base of Tuapse were reported to have repelled a German attack.

Smashing Comeback Clear Across Country Made By Republicans

States Tuesday

GAIN AT LEAST FOUR GOVERNORS

By HAROLD SLATER
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The Republican party was credited today with a smashing comeback against the New Deal as it scored major victories clear across the country in the first national election since Pearl Harbor, although President Roosevelt retained numerical control of the new congress by reduced majorities.

The Republicans won decisive victories in all the major states, starting in Massachusetts and continuing through New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota and the farm belt to California, Oregon and Washington.

In all, the GOP elected governors or senators for both in 18 major states, having an electoral vote of 285—just 19 more than is necessary to elect a president of the United States.

Gain Governorships

The Republicans gained at least four governorships, including control of the state machines in New York, Connecticut, Michigan and Wisconsin.

'No Comfort To Enemy In U. S. Election'

—HOOVER

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Former President Herbert Hoover today viewed the Republican sweeps in yesterday's election as a "protest of insistence upon more effective organization of the war," and declared that our enemies could get no comfort from outcome of the balloting.

Mr. Hoover said in a prepared statement: "Our enemies can get no comfort from this election. The platform of every single candidate—Republican, Democratic and Labor—was vigorous efficient prosecution of the war. There was a strong element of protest in the vote, but it was the protest of insistence upon more effective organization of the war. And that can be no comfort for the enemy."

"Those who believe in freedom everywhere will gain confidence from the demonstration that freedom can hold to its protective institutions even in desperate war."

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Supported by naval units and planes, American ground troops on Guadalcanal battled today to hold their counter-offensive gains and possibly extend them in the face of freshly-landed Jap reinforcements which seemed to be planning a flanking or pincers movement against U. S. positions.

Despite recent American successes which culminated in the smashing of Japan's latest land, sea and air drive to recapture the southern Solomons, new clashes were imminent.

More Enemy Troops Land

Landing of fresh enemy troops eastward of the American positions around strategic Henderson airfield on Guadalcanal signified that the enemy forces were preparing for fresh ground assaults from two sides. The main Japanese force is stationed west of the airfield.

In view of mounting Japanese warships and personnel losses and the fact that American army, navy and marine forces have crushed every Japanese counter-thrust in the past three months, the present situation was favorable to this nation but the outcome was still undecided.

British Fight To Hit Flank Of Axis Positions

By GEORGE LAIT
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BRITISH ARMORED FORCES IN EGYPT, Nov. 4.—Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery's tank units and armored forces, which pierced the German lines on a 4,000-yard front in the offensive launched Monday, are fighting for a strategic flanking position.

The attack already has carried deep into the enemy's fixed defenses and with some additional gains the British Eighth Army will be in position to launch flanking attacks north and south. Before such a threat the Axis forces would have no choice but retreat along the whole front to avoid disaster.

The attack was hurled against the German-Italian lines by long columns of tanks which were preceded and followed by infantry forces. Hundreds of our tanks drove for hundreds about five miles south of Sidi Abad El Rahman which is 15 miles inside the former front-lines.

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The Republican party today was riding on the crest of a tremendous national victory, as the GOP captured state after state in the north and seriously threatened President Roosevelt's influence over the new House of Representatives.

The Democrats were running a neck-and-neck race with the Republicans for control of the House but at 11:30 a. m. (E. W. T.) were not yet assured of a numerical majority. At that hour, unofficial but complete returns showed a lineup of:

214 Democrats; 210 Republicans; 2 Progressives; 1 American-Laborite; with 8 seats still in doubt.

It requires 218 seats to organize the House. The Republican increase was a net gain of 44 seats.

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Republican strength in congress soared to a new high under the New Deal today as late election returns showed the party gaining sharply in both senate and house.

The Democratic party retained control of both branches, but Republican gains opened the way for formation of Bi-Partisan coalitions to check extension of New Deal reforms and to demand changes in conduct of the war.

Eight Senate Seats Gained

The Republicans appeared to have won eight new senate seats and gained at least 30 house seats, with the result still in doubt in many close congressional districts.

Both Democratic and Republican party leaders were re-elected. Reps. John McCormack, Democrat, and Joseph Martin, Republican, respective party leaders in senate and house, easily won reelection in Massachusetts.

Sen. Charles McNary, Oregon, Republican senate leader, who was vice-presidential candidate in 1940,

Somebody won and somebody lost and the victors are wearing the smiles, and the losers are wondering just what cut them down, and where are their usual wiles. It was just the old story of folks getting set and having their say at the polls, and the speeches and work might have helped a slight bit, but the folks had their eyes on some goals. And that is the way it always should be, let the common folks have their say and you'll never go very far wrong I would think, it's bright, fifty-seven today.

Gov. Bricker, Of Ohio, Is Re-elected

Carries State By Over 350,000 Votes

Republican Candidate Is Named To Serve Third Term In Tuesday Election

LEGISLATURE IS ALSO REPUBLICAN

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 4.—Riding on the crest of a Republican tidal wave of votes, Gov. John W. Bricker today increased to 350,000 his huge majority over former Congressman John McSweeney, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee who conceded defeat.

In becoming the fourth governor in Ohio history to be elected to three terms and the second to win three consecutive terms, Bricker carried to victory the entire GOP state ticket and most of the 23 congressional candidates. He was given a legislature overwhelmingly Republican.

Near Complete Vote

Returns from 8426 of the 9127 polling places gave Bricker 988,184 votes to 633,629 for McSweeney.

Most observers agreed that his smashing victory at the polls Tuesday would entitle Bricker to serious consideration when the Republicans choose a presidential nominee in 1944.

Republicans elected the lone congressman-at-large, Rep. George H. Bender, and eleven district congressmen. They were almost certain of victory in three other districts, and had an even or better chance of winning in five other districts.

Only in three districts, the 19th, 20th and 21st, were the Democrats certain of electing congressmen on the basis of latest returns. In the 77th congress Ohio had 12 Republicans and 12 Democrats, but the state lost one seat by reapportionment.

LAWRENCE COUNTY AND NEW CASTLE VOTE REPUBLICAN

For Presly N. Jones, Democratic incumbent, who was running for his second term.

In the second district W. Sharp Fullerton (R) was elected to the General Assembly to succeed Assemblyman George T. Weingartner who did not run for re-election. Mr. Fullerton served one term, that of 1939 but ran for the State Senate in 1940 and was defeated. On Tuesday Mr. Fullerton defeated James B. Kelso, also a former member of the House. The vote was Fullerton, 6,586, Kelso 3,619.

Graham Wins Easily

For Congress, Louis E. Graham, Republican running for his third term in the national legislative body scored the largest success of his congressional career. This time he carried the three counties, making up the 26th congressional district, Lawrence, Beaver and Butler. Congressman Graham's total vote was 12,728 as against 29,704 for Peter P. Reising.

The congressional vote was divided as follows: Lawrence County, Graham, 6,729; Reising, 4,604. Beaver County, Graham, 15,388; Reising, 14,669; Butler County, Graham, 12,632; Reising, 6,969.

Other Votes

Other votes in the election of Tuesday follow:

For Supreme Court, Allen M. Stearns (R) 6,412; Grover C. Ladner (D) 4,598.

For Superior Court, Joseph Stadtfeld (R) 6,359; Michael A. Musmanno (D) 4,858.

For Lieutenant-Governor, John R. Bell (R) 6,520; Elmer Kilroy (D) 4,578.

For Secretary of Internal Affairs, William S. Livengood (R) 6,808; Warren Hess (D) 4,517.

For Congress-at-large, William I. Troutman (R) 6,607; Inez B. Peel (D) 4,539.

From a percentage standpoint, based upon the registration records, the vote in Lawrence was almost an even fifty per cent. Actually it was higher than this for approximately 5000 young men are in service and most of them were unable to vote. They had the opportunity of writing home for ballots but many of them would not have gotten them back in time even had they been able to get them. In addition there probably 1000 names upon the registration lists that were not eligible to vote due either to death or removal from the district.

The registered vote is 43,259. The vote cast by the Republicans and Democrats for governor was 21,807. There would be a scattered vote for other candidates, perhaps 50. The actual percentage of vote seems to have been about 58 1/2.

was re-elected by a 3 to one vote. Sen. Alben Barkley, Kentucky, Democratic leader, is a hold-over.

Norris Defeated

The most startling senate defeat was that of Sen. George W. Norris, 81-year-old Nebraska Independent, who bows out of congress after 40 years of service. Norris, often called "The Great Progressive," was defeated by Kenneth Wherry, Republican mid-west manager, in a three-cornered race in which Foster May, Democratic candidate, ran third.

Republicans claimed to have won seats from the Democrats in New Jersey, Delaware, West Virginia, Iowa, Oklahoma, Michigan and South Dakota, in addition to defeating Norris.

Of the 34 senate seats at stake this year, the Republicans had won 15, including Sen. Wallace White, Maine, who was elected in September; the Democrats had won 14, and five were in doubt.

G.O.P. May Have 195 In House

The probable line-up of the senate, based on incomplete returns, was 55 Democrats, 37 Republicans, and one Progressive, and three in doubt. The Republican membership in the house may pass 195 while the Democrats may have from 225 to 235 members.

The congressional elections showed that voters, as in primary elections, generally disregarded the tag of "isolationist" in the campaign. Sen. C. Wayland Brooks (R) Ill., who was vigorously attacked for his pre-war opposition to the Roosevelt foreign policy, won by a big margin in Illinois. Rep. Hamilton Fish (R) N.Y., another pre-war foe of the White House foreign policy, was re-elected.

Startling Upsets

Startling upsets were registered in New Jersey, West Virginia and Oklahoma. Sen. William Smathers (D) N.J., an unusually loyal New Dealer, was defeated by Albert W. Hawkes, linoleum manufacturer and former president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Sen. Josh Lee (D) Okla., who upset the senate by trying to tack a prohibition "rider" on the 18-19 draft bill, ran behind S. H. Moore, Tulsa oil magnate and New Dealer, who entered the race but six weeks ago. Gov. Matthew Neely, (D) W. Va., failed in his effort to return to the senate.

Lodge Re-elected

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. (R) Mass., who resigned a commission as major in the army after seeing action in Libya, was re-elected over Rep. Joseph Casey, a strong New Dealer. Sen. Clyde Herring (D) Iowa while former Gov. Harlan J. Bushield (R) was elected in South Dakota.

Veteran senators re-elected included 84-year-old Carter Glass (D) Va., and Arthur Capper (R) Kans. Sen. Styles Bridges (R) N.H., and Joseph H. Ball (R) Minn., who supported the president's pre-war foreign policy, were re-elected.

The defeat of Sen. Prentice Brown (D) Mich., at the hands of Judge Homer Ferguson, Republican and "one man grand jury" of Detroit, was a blow to the administration.

Blow To Administration

Brown, who had piloted both the original price control act and the new anti-inflation bill through the senate, was relied upon to handle economic and banking measures for the administration. During the anti-inflation bill fight he incurred the ill-will of farm organizations.

Most of the prominent leaders in house affairs were re-elected, many of them without opposition in the Democratic south.

Rep. Andrew J. May (D) Ky., chairman of the house military affairs committee, was a notable exception. May's defeat was demanded by President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America. He will be succeeded as chairman by Rep. Ewing Thompson (D) Texas, a strong White House supporter.

Speaker Sam Rayburn had no opposition in his Texas district. Rep. James Wadsworth (R) N.Y., who has handled important military legislation, was re-elected as was Rep. John Taber (R) N.Y., critic of New Deal handling of fiscal affairs.

GERMAN ARMIES BEATEN BACK ON RUSSIAN FRONT

base of Tuapse were said to have dislodged Nazi and Rumanian troops from mountain positions northeast of the city.

"The enemy attempted to recapture these heights but failed," the communique said.

Germans Repelled

"The Germans attempted to capture Soviet positions on the northwestern front but they were repelled after a counter-attack," it was added.

Only minor actions were reported from other fronts of the south Russian battlefield. Northwest of Stalingrad Soviet artillery engaged the Germans in mortar duels, and northeast of the Black Sea port of Tuapse a Nazi assault was repulsed and a Russian attack wiped out an enemy company in two local actions.

After retreating for six successive days in the Nalchik area of the Caucasus, the Russian defenses stiffened and new off all onslaughts of the invaders. But it was admitted that the Soviet forces here were waging defensive battles.

Heaviest fighting was reported from Stalingrad which entered its 72nd day of siege. On a narrow sector in the factory district the Germans attacked with two infantry divisions and 40 tanks. At the end of a day of bloody fighting the Germans not only had failed to make any advances but had been dislodged from a number of "pockets of resistance" and had lost more than 2,000 men killed.

The Soviet communique reported sinking of three more German transport, totalling 36,000 tons, by units of the Russian Baltic fleet.

NEW CLASHES IN THE SOLOMONS ARE IMMINENT

Secretary of the Navy Knox when he warned against "unwarranted optimism" in the Solomons campaign and added that American forces faced a "very desperate, hard fight" to hold their gains.

Dive Bombers Attack

Reports from the battle area left no doubt that American troops were making every effort to keep opposing enemy troops off balance following a two-mile advance by U. S. Marines in one sector Nov. 1.

"During the night of November 1-2, U. S. dive bombers continued attacks on enemy positions on the northwestern end of Guadalcanal Island," a navy communique said.

"During the morning of November 2nd, U. S. destroyers bombarded enemy positions on Guadalcanal, west of the Matanikau river, supporting our land attacks in that area."

At the same time, however, the navy reported that under cover of darkness the enemy succeeded in landing reinforcements east of the American forces which undoubtedly were to surge forward from destroyers or landing barges.

Night Landing Tactics

These night landing tactics were employed by the Japanese in the weeks that preceded the most recent enemy attempt to recapture the southern Solomons. Presumably, powerful Japanese fleet units are being gathered in enemy bases for another sea-borne thrust.

Navy men pointed out, however, that time and mounting enemy ship losses are working in favor of the American forces which undoubtedly are receiving supplies and reinforcements to ward off anticipated fresh enemy assaults.

Meanwhile, U. S. army, navy and marine corps airmen from the Australian and Guadalcanal areas have continued to take a terrific toll of the Japanese.

Since the Solomons campaign began, airmen from Australia have reported the destruction of 135 Japanese planes and 18 ships; in addition they listed 16 enemy vessels as probably sunk and 55 more damaged.

Augmenting this toll, navy communications since the Solomons campaign began have listed the following: at least 529 Jap planes downed; 12 ships sunk; and probably sunk and 62 damaged.

MARTIN IS WINNER FOR GOVERNOR BY MORE THAN 200,000

said Ross. "I also desire to extend my sincere gratitude to all those who supported my candidacy."

"Martin, receiving the returns at his home in Washington, Pa., commented: 'Of course I am most appreciative of the high honor conferred upon me and I thank the voters for their enthusiastic support.'"

Pledge War Support

Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence issued a statement several hours after midnight congratulating Martin also and pledging his support and that of his party toward winning the war. Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, who managed Martin's campaign, claimed victory at midnight, exclaiming: "It's just a question of how big his majority will be."

The new governor, Pennsylvania's 33rd, will take office in January, succeeding Republican Gov. Arthur H. James, who will retire after four years in office. Accompanying Martin, who is now Adjutant General of the Department of Military Affairs, into office will be John C. Bell, Jr., of Philadelphia, newly-elected Lieutenant Governor, president of the banking industry, Governor James' cabinet. Bell will succeed Lieut. Gov. Samuel S. Lewis, of York.

Other statewide candidates elected with Martin were: William S. Livengood, Jr., of Somerset, present Secretary of Internal Affairs, who sought re-election; William I. Troutman, of Shinnok, congressman-at-large; Allen M. Stearns, of Philadelphia, Justice of the State Supreme Court; and Joseph Stadtfeld, of Pittsburgh, incumbent judge of the State Superior Court.

Slightly more than 50 per cent. of the 4,600,000 eligible voters went to the polls. Ross apparently made his best fight in rock-rimmed Republican Philadelphia county, where he ran a nip-and-tuck race with his opponent. On the basis of almost complete returns from the Quaker City, Martin had a lead of approximately 500 votes. Governor James carried the city in 1938 by 13,000.

We must be decent to interned Japs, but isn't it a little silly to feed them in idleness while crops are lost for want of pickers?

Past trickery is paying dividends. Tests show that many things once considered mere gold are really precious brass.

Rommel's strongpoints and pushed German and Italian troops westward for a distance of six miles.

Advancing British infantry blasted Axis gun positions and cleared a path through Rommel's minefields on a 4,000-yard front enabling the Allied tanks to surge forward through Rommel's defenses.

Latest reports from the battlefront said that the fighting had become exceedingly "fluid" as opposing tank units swirled across the desert sands jockeying for positions.

Berlin reports on the tank fighting termed the battle the greatest armored combat yet fought in the North African desert. The Germans said Gen. Montgomery was employing at least 500 tanks. Rome, admitting that the Axis so far had suffered great losses, claimed that British losses also were heavy.

Inconclusive

Reports from correspondents in the desert said that the battle remained inconclusive but it appeared obvious that Gen. Montgomery's forces were striving mightily to consolidate the gains scored by the British and Dominion infantrymen to establish a salient from which they might launch flanking moves both north and south of the breakthrough.

The sands around Tel El Akakia ridge were strewn with burned out Axis tanks and the substantial numbers of German and Italian prisoners taken was being steadily increased.

Fighting also was heavy in the coastal area just north of the scene of the armored engagement. Here Australian infantrymen held an estimated 2,500 Germans and Italians trapped in a pocket between El Alamein and Sidi Abd El Rahman. Latest accounts from this sector said the Australians were successfully countering every effort of the Axis troops to break out of the trap and rejoin Rommel's main forces.

DEWEY'S VICTORY IS SEVERE BLOW TO DEMOCRATS

didate two years ago, automatically becomes an outstanding contender for the Republican nomination in '44.

The overwhelming Dewey victory was in line with predictions of his campaign handlers. With less than 500 upstate districts missing, and New York City complete, he held a plurality of 592,892 votes. Dewey's incomplete, unofficial poll was 2,050,491 votes against 1,457,509 for Bennett.

Despite the double blow to Farley and Roosevelt, it can be stated authoritatively that the defeat of Bennett will not mean, as has been intimated, that Farley will quit as Democratic state chairman.

SMASHING COMEBACK MADE BY REPUBLICANS

California, with their mighty import on the 1944 presidential election. The GOP also gained at least eight senate seats and picked up a net gain, on incomplete returns, of 30 seats in the house of representatives.

The voters projected at least five Republicans into the national arena as GOP possibilities for 1944. The list is topped by racket-buster Thomas E. Dewey, who captured the governorship of strategic New York. The others are Governor Leveverett Saltonstall, re-elected in Massachusetts; Governor John W. Bricker, re-elected in Ohio; Sen. C. Wayland Brooks, re-elected in Illinois; and General Edward Martin, elected governor of Pennsylvania.

Roosevelt "Devotees" Fall

The national balloting saw many Roosevelt "devotees" fall by the wayside, an outcome taken as criticism of the administration's conduct of the war.

Among noted casualties were the veteran Sen. George W. Norris in Nebraska; Joseph E. Casey, presidential confidant, beaten for the senate in Massachusetts; Sen. Josh Lee, ardent New Dealer, defeated in an Oklahoma upset; Governor Matthew M. Neely, outstanding Rooseveltian, defeated in a West Virginia senate upset, and Chairman Andrew May of the house military affairs committee, defeated in Kentucky.

On top of that, Rep. Hamilton Fish, Jr., was re-elected in the president's own home district in New York.

The president, however, was assured of a Democratic senate and probably of a Democratic house.

Pre-Arrangement of Funerals Is Sensible

A few years ago the idea of arranging for a funeral before the time it was required would have been considered fantastic. Today it is a common and sensible practice.

A pre-arranged funeral means one that is in accord with normal desires. It is arrived at by considered judgment—not during the stress of grief.

We invite pre-arrangement. It assures that both the service and the cost will be in accordance with your wishes—and relieves you of a burden when the need does arise.

EDITH MAE KELLY MARRIES V. HARTZELL

A pretty wedding ceremony took place on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 3, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kelly, of Lakewood, when their daughter, Edith Mae, became the bride of Vincent Hartzell, son of Mrs. Genevieve Hartzell, of West Washington street.

Standing before an improvised altar of green foliage, ferns and yellow mums, the gift of the East Brook Garden club, the vows were exchanged in the presence of immediate families and relatives. The Rev. A. Shaffer, pastor of the East Brook Presbyterian church, was the officiating minister. He used the single ring service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractive in a street length soldier blue crepe dress with matching accessories. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. Her shoulder corsage was of pink and white rosebuds.

Miss Winifred Dean, of East Brook, as maid of honor, wore a navy velvet dress, street length, complemented with a shoulder bag of yellow and white rosebuds.

Charles Kelly, brother of the bride, served as best man.

Appropriate wedding music was provided for the occasion, the selections including "I Love You Truly", "O Promise Me" and "Because". The Lohengrin Wedding Chorus announced the approach of the bridal party.

BATTLES FOR CITIES

It is reported from London that the Nazis have begun to fortify Europe's coastal cities in the manner of the Russians. The Muscovites have successfully held Leningrad and Stalingrad because they have fortified every building and every street for defense.

Stalin's legions put up a good fight at Sevastopol in a similar manner but yielded finally to superior forces. Apparently Hitler is deeply impressed and is adopting similar means to meet his problem of holding the European coasts against threatened invasion.

Earlier in the war the idea was to maintain a general line of defense on land. If pushed back, cities in the line of retreat were not defended so as to avoid their destruction. Many a city was declared an "open" city—that is, the defenders had no intention of using it as a point of resistance. Sometimes the invader co-operated and did not attack the city, as in the case of Paris. But in other instances "open" cities have been bombed regardless, as in the case of Manila.

Now the city may return to its ancient place in warfare, which is the central point of struggle. Until comparatively recent times all of the turmoil took place in and around cities. And while the trend in this conflict has been away from that mode of warfare, with panzer divisions more effective when afforded freedom of movement in the countryside, the swing again may be toward desperate urban encounter.

If this is true, many a city in Europe may be destined to bear scars which will never heal, if indeed the fighting does not result in total obliteration.

FUTURE OF FRENCH FLEET

At the fall of France, some of its fleet lay in French harbors. Some of it lay at Dakar and other colonial points, Martinique, for instance. Hitler long has wanted to get his hands on those ships, but Marshal Petain was able to hold him off. Laval has no moral or patriotic inhibitions. Darlan appears to play the Hitler game. Hitler thinks now he can get the ships.

It makes a great difference to both sides who has them. If Hitler can add them to an active navy, they will be a great asset. If they can be held inactive, as they have been so far, their menace to our side is removed. There's a much better chance of invasion. If the United Nations could take them over that would be a great gain, but such possibility seems out of the question in the near future.

The B. B. C. recently broadcast that Hitler had sent an ultimatum to Laval, demanding the surrender of all merchant ships, French or foreign, now in French harbors. If he gets these, he will be after the naval shipping next.

The French do not like these demands. Unarmed, they have been helpless. Now assistance is drifting in, so far a mere trickle. Their day is coming, however. Hitler knows it. That's why he is in haste about French ships.

MEATLESS DAY EXPERIMENT

When going into the science of reducing something to a technicality it would be hard to find people more adept than those living in New York City. Just now they are engaged in analysis of the item of meat in restaurants.

The nation is slated to go on coupon ration books for meat in a matter of weeks, but New York City restaurant and hotel men hold that a better way to save meat is to have a meatless Tuesday. They have been trying it out and claim that they have proved their point.

At the same time they are busy combating consumer suggestions. One of these is that a standard steak be adopted. Restaurant men reject this as impractical. Another suggestion is that restaurants serve half portions of steak. This is also rejected. A third suggestion is that the patron be advised by the kitchen the weight of his steak before it is cooked, so that he can be certain that he is not exceeding the two and a half pounds of meat a week which is being talked of as the limit on an adult's consumption.

This does not appeal to the restaurant men either and they are also lukewarm to the idea advanced by some patrons that only one meat be served to a customer. All this is classifiable as academic discussion, though, because Washington has decreed nation-wide rationing of meat to start on or about January 1, and Washington will brook no change of plans on the home front.

CURRENCY IMPORTS

A limitation of $50 on the amount of United States currency a traveler may bring into the country has been put into effect by Washington. Incoming citizens at the borders must declare to customs officials all U. S. money in their possession in excess of that sum and turn it over.

For some months the limit placed on importation of U. S. currency has been $250. Originally the step was taken to keep the Axis powers that had seized American money overseas from realizing on it here.

The $50 limit does not apply to persons entering from Canada, Mexico, Bermuda, Newfoundland and Great Britain. The government informs persons leaving the United States for other countries that it may be unwise to take more than $50. Because of new foreign exchange regulations, United States currency, usually at a premium, is being quoted at a discount in many nations, particularly in South America.

Speaking of stabilization problems, the Russians seem to have done a pretty good job of stabilizing the Nazis at Stalingrad.

These lady welders will make good wives after the war is over. They will be right handy at repair jobs around the house.

A survey reveals that American soldiers prefer cookies to doughnuts, and another myth is shattered.

In the good old days we all thought the Chinese were pacifists. The Japanese must have thought so, too, but now look at 'em.

Congress, whose sole function now seems to be to increase taxes, is coasting along until it get new directives from the treasury.

Typhus as well as icicles and the Russians is reported to be hampering the Nazis in Russia.

TRAINING IN DAILY HOUSEWORK

Repeatedly, in this column, I have urged parents to train their growing children to help about the house, boys as well as girls. Now I want to quote from a mother of six children on the way she has done this.

"The oldest boy, 15, besides earning his own vacation and spending money, has found time to do the washing twice weekly, and the heavy housework such as scrubbing floors. Last spring he did all the heavy work in housecleaning (for which he was paid, that being extra) and helped his father do an extensive job of redecorating in two rooms. He also plays in the high school band, takes active part in Sunday school and church and raises tropical fish for a hobby. He can iron his own clothes, if necessary, press his good trousers, cook and wash dishes, also sew on buttons.

"He is not and never has been a sissy in any sense of the word. He is almost as tall as his dad and they indulge in good healthy rough and tumble with plenty of give and take. At one time he showed signs of being a poor loser, so a set of boxing gloves was purchased. These and the wrestling matches have helped this very much.

"Both he and his sister, 13, can be left in complete charge of the house and children under normal circumstances for several hours at a time without worry by either Dad or me.

Elderly Girl's Jobs

"This elderly girl has taken over most of the cooking and canning this summer; irons all her own clothes and part of the little girls', and can clean a room as thoroughly as I can. She also has been learning to select her own clothes and make them this summer. She is an expert baton twirler, having won a first rating in state and third in regional contests. She is learning to play a musical instrument.

"The next boy, 12, keeps the bathrooms clean (we have two), helps prepare meals, does dishes, irons his own everyday clothes and is handy at a number of small chores about the house. He also plays in the band and keeps about airplanes.

"The fourth child, a girl 10, irons her own and two small sisters' everyday clothes, helps in preparation of meals and dishwashing, specializes in dusting and keeping the house in order.

"They all make their own beds and keep their bedrooms clean.

"The next girl, 8, cleans down the stairs each day, can wash or wipe dishes, sets the table and can tidy a room to perfection.

Morning Routine

"Here is our routine for early morning during the school year. The two boys get up first. The eldest looks after the furnace, the other helps with breakfast. The girls are next. The eldest, of course, sees to her own toilet and keeps her eye on her sisters to see that they are properly dressed and combed. The next two girls wash and wipe breakfast dishes before leaving for school.

"We believe marriage is a fifty-fifty proposition. Dad helps with the children and works as much as he can; I try to make his dollar go as far as possible and maintain a good mother of five.

This mother adds that parents who train their children in self-reliance and responsibility are doing their utmost to help win the war and build for a better world in the years to come.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Would you ever get a tot to say something which he says awkwardly just for amusement of yourself and others?

A. No. I would not want to be rude and cruel. A selected list of books and pamphlets on understanding the child and guiding him happily, may be had without cost to you by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Coffee and short waves.

Mayor LaGuardia of New York told the citizens how to brew what he said was a good economical cup of coffee.

The National coffee association says LaGuardia's method is a splendid way of "ruining the coffee we have."

LaGuardia has been broadcasting to Italy—secretly—in our name for two months.

We don't know what kind of coffee he has been prescribing.

Now the government has taken over all the short-wave stations except one.

And we don't know what kind of coffee—or tariff—will be served.

The holdout station says it represents "the last free short-wave radio voice in the entire world."

Thought for the day: Name the four freedoms.

ALL FOR WHAT?

I have always been inclined to the belief that the questioning of witnesses would proceed more rapidly and with more effect if a Judge was allowed to preside at Grand Jury sessions but our disillusion came when we happened to drop in at the Recorders Court.

"Where," asked the prosecuting attorney, "were you on the night of July 22nd between one and two o'clock?"

The defending counsel objected to the question.

The witness was willing to answer.

The Judge decided the question was inadmissible.

Prosecuting counsel insisted upon its relevancy and the witness repeated his willingness to answer.

Finally the Judge gave way and the question was again formally put.

The witness replied: "I don't know."

CORRESPONDENCE

Is it bad taste for a girl to write to a man more often than he writes to her? The most interesting man I know and the one who seems most interested in me writes to me less frequently than this Julia.

Answer: Yes, Julia, it would be a serious mistake to write to him more frequently than he does to you, unless he is ill. Regardless of your feelings toward him, do not appear more ardent than he does in either your letters or your conversation.

Your woman's intuition should tell you whether you have yet won him. Until you are sure you have let your attitude trend slightly toward the indifferent side. Man's indifference is seldom overcome by woman's aggressiveness if it is allowed to be apparent. On the other hand, do not lean too far on the indifferent side and brag to him about imaginary proposals you are receiving from other men. This may scare him away, especially if he is suffering from an inferiority complex due to lack of money and is waiting for a better financial status before showing you the attention he hopes to bestow upon you.

Question: A friend argues that when a girl asks a boy to go to a dance with her, someone she knows well she expects the boy to pay for the tickets. I maintain that she should supply the tickets. Who is right?—Bill.

Answer: You are right, Bill. She should supply the tickets since she is supplying the invitation. He should send her a corsage and supply means of transportation and if he bears all the other expenses. If he knows her well and has frequent dates with her, he might offer to pay for the tickets.

After being the wrong phone number three or four times the same evening, no man can feel important.

A million tons of scrap seems a lot till you remember that we sent Japan twice that much in one year.

You can say it for most people—life never gets so dull that they will not fight for it.

Of course there are people who don't like anybody. In fact some even hate themselves.

What's What At A Glance
Willkie May Run Against Roosevelt Again
Another Race Between Them Not Impossible
Roosevelt Would Run If War Has Not Ended

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—It would be interesting to watch another presidential race, in 1944, between Franklin D. Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie.

Washington's political gossips quite frequently mention it as a possibility.

Of course those who do so, do it on the assumption that the war still will be going on. Nobody imagines that if it's over, F. D. will be considered for a fourth nomination or that he would accept it even if it were offered to him. Supposing the conflict's outcome to remain undecided two years hence, however, the belief is fairly general that very strong pressure will be brought to bear upon the present White House to run again for at least the rest of its duration. And if he acquiesces, many of the capital's guessers give it as their judgment that Willkie will be the natural candidate for the Republicans to put up against him for a second time.

Such New Dealers as may potentially favor a fourth term, not only on the war's account, but also with a view to reorganizing the government according to their ideas of a desirable form of permanency, are not saying much about it as yet, doubtless preferring to await a better opportunity. This obvious policy for them is to lie low until they have a suitable, workable situation to change horses' argument and then spring it suddenly, rather than to create a lot of advance hostility to their scheme by premature discussion of it.

Opposition Speaks Up

Contrariwise the prospect is getting its advertising in the shape of warnings from folk who are afraid of it and are urging the country to be prepared to fight it.

Illustrative of this was the recent speech by Publisher Ralph Nicholson of the New Orleans Item, calling on the American press to unite in demanding an anti-fourth term pledge directly from the executive mansion's current occupant.

On the other hand, however, that they may be disregarded as to a fourth Rooseveltian nomination, the "antis" are seriously debating among themselves, the choice of the G. O. P. selection who should be able to oppose it most effectively.

Here's where Wendell Willkie enters into their calculations.

It may seem as if Wendell, having once been beaten by F. D., would be just the individual NOT to be nominated.

The Willkie-ites, though, maintain that 1944's contrast between the pair will be in exact reverse from 1942's.

In the former year the president, with two White House terms behind him, naturally was fully known to and by everyone. All hands thought they knew precisely what to expect from him. He was predominantly popular. Perhaps the unprecedented third term issue handicapped him mildly, but the case was regarded by most voters as an unavailing exception.

FOUR years, though, are apt to reason the Willkie-ites, to be deemed an overdose of a single uninterrupted personality at Uncle Samuel's executive headquarters.

Willkie Was Unknown

Wendell Willkie, on the opposite hand, was practically unknown to all but a few financiers up to the date of only a few months prior to it, when he stopped in at Washington to introduce himself.

He had to hire a press agent to show him around and tell capital news correspondents what his name was, how he spelled it and where he came from. How he got himself nominated was a wonder. Out of his nomination he got, to be sure, some publicity. Yet he was a poor (Continued On Page Five)

LOOKING AT LIFE

—By Erich Brandeis

In the Philadelphia zoo some irate visitors have mutilated the signs over the cage of the Japanese Sika Deer.

For heaven's sake, don't let us be as silly again as we were in the last war.

Can a deer help it that it was born in Japan?

Can a dachshund be held responsible for its parentage?

In the last war, people changed the name of frankfurters to liberty sausages, and sauerkraut was liberty cabbage. Hamburgers, hotbraus and limburger were suspected of being spies.

Everybody who ran a restaurant called Hofbrau or Backeller, was either forced to change the name of his place or go out of business.

German police dogs had to walk around shamefacedly with their tails between their legs.

Thousands of loyal citizens with German names, were ostracized just because they were named Schulz, or Mueller or Schmidt.

Any spy or saboteur should be shot or put in jail. But don't let us be childish. Don't let us condemn a person because his ancestors happened to be born in a country that's now our enemy.

I am sure that any self-respecting dog or deer, any decent frankfurter or hamburger, yes even any sensible spaghetti or suki yaki would rather live in America than in Germany. Italy or Japan.

Let's never sporting to let your spleen out on the helpless.

We are too big for that sort of thing.

Let's lick Hitler and not fight dachshunds. Let's crush Mussolini and keep right on eating ravioli.

I, for one am not going to throw my Japanese housecoat away, just because I hate Hirohito.

Have another frankfurter?

The World and the Mud Puddles

SYNTHETICS

The quartermaster corps works its miracles of synthetics. The brass button turns plastic. Plastic makes the soldier's comb and safety razor, replaces the aluminum in his canteen. More prosaic but none the less effective saving comes by simpler substitution—as of the wood for the iron bed, the wooden truck body for the steel, the iron cook stove for the aluminum and stainless steel. Enough aluminum for fifty-four hundred planes gained thus in two years!

That isn't all. Whatever the army uses is under refashioning to minimize critical materials content. The change-over carries into farther fields than the layman thinking only of the fighter's outfit suspects. There's the army's $7,500,000,000 construction program, severely restricted in point of the stuff to be used. Chromium, magnesium and nickel are almost wholly out; copper, rubber, steel, zinc, lead and aluminum close behind. Plastic puts in here again with possible adoption of a screen fabric "apparently superior to metal screening in tropical climates." The same basic substance eventually may supplant metal tube and pipe. Meanwhile the ordinary copper screen comes of zinc-coated steel.

Wherever possible other insulating methods are employed to spare rubber. Slow-drying paints needing none of the quick-drying oils essential to munitions manufacture are applied. Structures with an estimated life expectancy of five years get no point at all, stains take its place. Cork is cut down in refrigerating equipment. Wood beams go into buildings instead of steel. There are limitations on kinds of lumber valuable in aircraft construction. Thus endlessly runs the story.

So even the military services, to give the fighting fronts the ships, guns, tanks, planes and munitions they must have, leave the old ways and forgo the usual. Next time you're tempted to complain because some civilian product comes now in a different form or of other materials than heretofore, remember that—and congratulate yourself that you can get it at all.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

"Two hundred executed more!"
Old men, old women, girls and boys!

The gentle folk who live next door,
The children at their toys!

"Four hundred thousand killed,"
they say.

Since first this dreadful war began,
Just for refusing to betray
And send to death a fellow man.

There was a village whole wiped out.
Its every little house knocked flat.
Though war at best is hell, I doubt
It calls for cruelty like that.

And this I wonder when at last
Peace soothes this troubled world again,
How those with such a vicious past
Will dare to pose as gentlemen.

Jap Forces Are Pushed Back

Relentless Pressure Is Exerted On Japs In New Guinea

ALL LOST GROUND NOW REGAINED

By Lee Van Atta
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS. In Australia, Nov. 4.—Jap ground forces today dropped further back toward the north coast of New Guinea under the relentless pressure of Australian jungle fighters who ousted the invaders from strategic Kokoda on the north slope of the Owen Stanley mountains.

Advance units of the Australian troops were said to be approaching the town of Oivi.

Allied forces, which captured Kokoda are continuing to push the Japanese back toward the north coast of New Guinea, a communication from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said.

The Australians now have regained every bit of ground lost to the Japs when the invaders penetrated the Kokoda gap and pushed to within 32 air miles of the Allied base of Port Moresby. They are now pushing the Japs back across ground which General MacArthur chose not to defend when enemy troops first were landed at Buna on the north shore of the Papua territory.

Sight Burning Ship
Reconnaissance planes, the communiqué said, sighted the burning hulk of one of the Japanese transports which was blasted by two Allied bombs when a new invasion convoy was forced to turn back from New Guinea on Monday.

The destroyed enemy transport, a vessel of either 10,000 or 12,000 tons, was sighted off the south coast of New Britain island from which the convoy of two transports, a cruiser and a destroyer set out.

The transport was stationary and still burning in the same position where Allied bombing planes caught it and showered it with explosives.

Waves of Allied bombing planes meanwhile delivered a smashing new attack against Jap-held Dili on the north coast of the former Dutch-Portuguese island of Timor.

The Dili town and wharf area were attacked by two formations of medium bombers in the early morning yesterday, the communiqué said.

In mid-afternoon a second wave raided the port and was challenged by at least five Jap Zero fighters. One Zero was definitely destroyed, another was believed shot down and a third was damaged.

New fires were started among buildings still flaming as a result of a raid on Monday.

Heavy new damage was inflicted, the communiqué said.

All of the Allied planes returned safely to their base.

Medium bombers also carried out an attack in darkness against Jap shipping in the Buin-Paisi roadstead area of the Solomons but results of this assault were not observed.

ONLY TWO DRUNKS
Election night did not cause any unusual activity by police. Only two persons needed their attention, both having been taken in charge because of intoxication. Mayor Charles B. Mayne discharged both defendants today in police court.

Colver Youth Is Killed In Action

Lieut. W. Garfield Thomas, U. S. N., Buried At Sea Somewhere In Pacific

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 4.—Lieut. W. Garfield Thomas, Jr., of Colver, Cambria County, son of W. Garfield Thomas, deputy state secretary of mines, has been killed in action with the U. S. Navy somewhere in the Pacific, friends were notified today.

The father, seriously ill in a Harrisburg hospital, has not been advised of his son's death.

The young lieutenant, according to the telegram received in Colver, has been buried at sea.

New Castle and Lawrence County voters went to the polls on Tuesday afternoon in considerably larger proportions than had been indicated earlier in the day. The turnout at the polls showed that more than half the registered vote was cast, and considering that there were hundreds who were prevented from voting because of the war, the showing was much better than had been forecast.

For every ten 30-foot cruisers that are not being built this year, the United States Navy can have another mosquito boat.

Brooks May Have 175,000

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—U. S. Sen. C. Wayland Brooks' plurality in his crushing victory over Rep. Raymond S. McKeough, Democrat, in yesterday's Illinois senatorial election, may reach 175,000 votes, late returns indicated today.

Final Chicago tabulations gave McKeough a majority of 176,287 although the Cook County Democrat lead was cut down to slightly more than 125,000 by the heavy Republican balloting in Chicago's nearby county towns.

Chicago gave Brooks 582,340 votes to 758,627 for McKeough. The state-wide sweep, swinging Illinois back into the class of rock-ribbed Republican states, apparently brought victory to Congressman-at-large Stephen A. Day, Republican, over Benjamin S. Adamowski, Democrat.

He's been a Democrat. He's been a muddling liberal big business executive. He wasn't a dyed-in-the-wool conservative. Nevertheless, it took investigation to discover all this.

And NOW look at him!

He's about as prominent as the president.

The truth is that he's been so conspicuously identified with F. D. as the latter's representative, that he might find it hard to disassociate himself from the latter as a rival White House candidate. I'd surmise that he could stand it, though, in that capacity.

And he's performed creditably. Gambling on his nomination in 1944, he won't need a publicity agent then, anyway.

Wolves Club Has Party For Wives

Wives, Special Guests Attend Dinner-Entertainment At The Castleton

Wolves club members were hosts Tuesday evening at what proved to be a delightful, informal dinner-meeting, with wives and a few guests, invited at The Castleton, to share the evening's entertainment.

Early in the evening, the full course dinner was served on nicely arranged tables, favors marking places for upwards of 50 guests.

Dr. John P. Pioletti pronounced the invocation.

Vice-President Charles DeCarbo presided following the meal, and welcomed the wives of members and the guests, who were introduced.

Program Chairman A. N. Carbon introduced the entertainer of the evening, Howell Williams, a clever magician from Ellwood City, who amused the audience with his magic tricks and witty stories.

Card playing including 500 and various other games were the main pastimes later in the evening. High scores being captured by Carm Sacco, James Caravella, Frank Summers, Mrs. Carm Sacco and Mrs. A. N. Carbon. Music was also featured during the course of the dinner and informal period.

Special guests invited in addition to the wives of members were Matt Coby of Norwalk, O., Mrs. Howell Williams and Palma Julian, the latter of "The News".

Program Chairman A. N. Carbon was in charge of last evening's social time, and he was assisted by James Scarazzo, Joe Donati and Tom Malizia.

The regular bowling session was dispensed with last night but will be resumed at the next meeting on November 17.

The meeting was held in the church.

Miss Tate was introduced by the church pastor, Rev. James Hey, D.D., who told of the Oriental work and also gave the benediction.

Other features of the program were two vocal solos by Miss Lois Blair and Miss Margaretta Lewis, the scripture reading by Mrs. Helen Kite and prayer by Miss Mabel

LOANS FOR EMPLOYED WOMEN

We're addressing any employed woman in this community who has a problem which cash can solve. Borrowing money is never wise if it means making difficulties worse, but there are certain circumstances in which a well-planned loan is the best way to get out of debt.

And when ready cash isn't available for needed medical or dental work, needed clothing, for training which will increase one's earning power—then a loan is also common-sense.

Here at Personal Finance Company we specialize in serving women. If you need cash—$10 to $250 or more—we'll see that you get it without embarrassment or delay, on just your own signature, without involving your friends or employer. There is no difficulty in handling monthly payments on a loan here.

For example: $10.05 per mo. pays $100 loan in 12 mos.

If you need cash, we'll be glad to serve you. Special quick service during lunch hour. Come in or phone. It will be a pleasure to serve you. Personal Finance Company, 3rd Floor, Woods Bldg., New Castle, Pa. Phone 2100.

New Nursing Aide Classes Are Being Organized Locally

Mrs. Harry Barkby Announces
Registration For New Classes
At Chapter House

Mrs. Harry Barkby, chairman of the Volunteer Nurses' Aide committee of Lawrence County Chapter of the American Red Cross, announces a new registration for all women 18 years of age up to 50 for the new nursing aide classes which will be starting in the near future.

Applicants must call at the chapter office to fill in the first form and receive the physical examination blank provided by the American Red Cross nursing service. The classes now being held in the Jameson and New Castle hospitals have proved so successful that the students are requesting the instructors to give more time than the Red Cross requests.

Enrollment in each class is limited and the committee under the leadership of Mrs. Barkby will interview personally each applicant and those enrolling at an early date will be given first consideration.

Mrs. Barkby has just ordered the uniforms for the first two classes and upon the completion of the first 34 hours of training, the committee will give to each student her 3 uniforms which she has purchased. Upon the completion of the final 46 hours of instruction the classes will be capped and pinned, with Mrs. Barkby and her committee in complete charge of this very impressive ceremony.

Senator Smathers Apparently Loses In New Jersey

(International News Service)
TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 4.—Albert W. Hawkes, Republican business man and newcomer to politics, today moved toward apparent victory over his Democratic opponent, United States Senator William H. Smathers who, backed by Mayor Frank Hague, sought re-election mainly on his support of President Roosevelt and the administration's war policies.

With less than 300 districts still unreported Hawkes' advantage over the "New Deal" Democrat exceeded 90,000 votes and Republican State Chairman H. Alexander Smith claimed an outright victory as well as triumphs in 11 of the 14 Congressional battles. In the third Congressional district Smith claimed a new seat through the election of James C. Auchincloss, mayor of Rumson, over William H. Sutphin, the Democratic incumbent.

Pre-Pearl Harbor isolationism was an issue in the third district. Smith stated that the election results showed "the eager desire of the people for an all-out war effort to be carried out with a maximum of efficiency and economy."

Illegal Cache Of 1,100 Tires Found

OPA In Pittsburgh Investigates
Unregistered Holdings Of Unnamed Tire Dealer

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—A cache of 1,100 unregistered used automobile tires, held illegally by a western Pennsylvania tire dealer in an isolated hideaway, was the object of a widespread investigation today by agents of the office of price administration.

Although the OPA discounted reports of widespread tire smuggling in this area, Louis G. Feldman, chief investigator here, warned that motorists, found guilty of evading the law, are liable to fines of $10,000 and 10 years' imprisonment.

The OPA disclosed that its case against the dealer accused of secretizing the huge cache of tires is not complete and refused to divulge the location of the tires and the dealer's name.

Oh, what a bore is the man with a snore!
Snoring increases during the winter months.
This is due to colds and overheated sleeping rooms.
Snoring is a great disturber.
Snoring is produced largely by breathing through the open mouth.
The quiet sleeper breathes naturally through his nose.
Most snorers lie on their backs and the mouth drops open.
The soft palate vibrates and sets up a discordant noise.
Persons who work indoors are more often snorers than others.
Obstruction in the nose may cause one to breathe by mouth.
The snorer should be examined by the family doctor.
Snoring due to physical defect may be corrected.

Draft Board Asks Return Of Soldier

Life Of Pittsburgh Man With Three Orphaned Sisters

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—Reversing the usual procedure, a city draft board today asked the army to return a soldier to civilian life so he can take care of his three orphaned sisters whose mother was buried yesterday.

Mrs. Mary Alu Benny, a widowed mother with five sons in the armed forces who died Friday, left three daughters, Mildred, 17, Mary, 15, and Dolores, 10, without any visible means of support.

The draft board asked the return of Pvt. John Benny, 22, of Fort Eustis, Va., to support the girls.

Little is known about Edmond Hoyle, the man referred to in the phrase "according to Hoyle". He was born in England in 1672 and spent most of his life in London writing on games and giving lessons in card-playing, especially whist. He published a book in which he systematized the laws and rules of whist, his name becoming proverbial as an authority on games and playing a game "according to Hoyle". He came to mean playing it fair and according to the recognized rules.

United Nations Benefit From U. S. Donations

Millions Of Charity Dollars
Given Annually By U. S.
To Other Peoples

U. S. GIVES YEARLY
$150,000,000 CHARITY

By JANE COCHRAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Nov. 4. — Almost every member of the United Nations benefits from the open-hearted American public—a public that also takes care of its own through yearly donations of millions of charity dollars.

A nation is kept from starving—battered civilians receive clothes, care and hospitalization—service men at lonely outposts will have "Christmas as usual"—prisoners of war receive food and comforts their ungenerous captors would not ordinarily give—and infantile paralysis victims walk again.

All these and more are provided the men and women of America whose generosity seems to know no limit and who are annually asked to give more than $150,000,000 to charity.

War Costly
War, and the misery it brings, takes the most.

Monthly, one million dollars is required by the Greek War Relief association alone. This money sends food to Greece to prevent actual death from starvation.

The United China relief needs $7,000,000 yearly to fill its quota of food, clothing, medical and shelter needs for the suffering people of our gallant Asiatic ally.

Russian war relief—with a yearly quota of $6,000,000, is only slightly smaller in scope.

The British War Relief association aids not only the English, but Australia and New Zealand as well as the refugee children in England. Their seven million budget makes provision for maintaining 296 American ambulances in Britain; 1,000 mobile feeding kitchens; nurseries homes for war stricken children, for the aged and those dispossessed by bombs.

Purchases Material
It also purchases material to be made here for shipment abroad to the needy and purchases the actual clothing and shelter equipment. It has a fund for relief after "blitz" bombings and to care for clubs of merchant seamen.

The Queen Wilhelmina fund takes care of destitute and needy Dutch the world over. Food packages are sent through the International Red Cross to prisoners in Axis hands. Dutch refugees in Portugal and Spain are aided and Hollanders throughout the United States, whose funds were cut off by the German invasion, are helped. Dutch merchant seamen, victims of enemy-torpedoed ships, are aided and cared for.

Merchant seamen are also aided by the United Seamen's Service campaign which is seeking $6,000,000 to provide a world-wide system of club and rest homes for the merchant marine men.

Community Chest drives throughout the nation care for the sick and needy in local communities, provide day nurseries, assist hospitals, and support all types of community welfare projects.

The USO, maintained by six co-operating organizations—the National Travelers Aid society, the YMCA, YWCA, Jewish Welfare board, National Catholic Community Service, and the Salvation Army—now serves more than three and a quarter million men of the armed forces monthly. Contributions to the USO last week totaled $2,577,928, and more than 1,000 USO units are in operation.

Members of the New Castle Lions club saw an interesting talking picture on the rubber industry, entitled "Keep Them Rolling" at their luncheon meeting in The Castleton Tuesday noon.

The picture showed the myriad of uses to which rubber tires are put in the field of heavy industry and in war.

Capt. J. L. Reed, U. S. Dental Corps, who is located at the Station hospital, Fort Story, Va., and who is home on a short leave of absence, was present at the meeting.

Navy Recruiting Will Be Continued Despite Rumors

(Special To The News)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—Reports that the navy plans to abandon its present system of voluntary recruiting are "utterly false," Lieut. Paul R. Warmee, officer in charge of the Philadelphia recruiting district, declared today.

"Rumors that the navy has any such intentions are without any foundation whatsoever," Lieutenant Warmee said.

"The present method of voluntary recruitment will not only be continued, but will be speeded up. 'The navy needs volunteers to man its ships, planes and other equipment,' Warmee continued. 'The navy will continue to seek them from the ranks of willing young Americans who wish to volunteer in the navy.'"

Lieutenant Warmee's statement was made in conjunction with a directive from the bureau of naval personnel, scotching the rumors, the bureau said.

"The numerous rumors to the effect that the navy is going to discontinue obtaining recruits by voluntary enlistment are without any foundation whatsoever and the present method will be continued," Lieutenant Warmee added that 12,700 men from the Philadelphia district had volunteered and been accepted for the navy in the past two months.

"This definitely proves," Lieutenant Warmee declared, "that the volunteer spirit and the navy's appeal are stronger than ever."

posing to violate the order of the commission at Complaint Docket 7820 by moving its office from the suitable quarters secured by it to a room occupied by it prior to said order, by not providing a suitable employee to handle office matters, and that the management of the company has no desire to accommodate its patrons.

It is also alleged that the company violates its published tariff by making a charge for hand set telephones, that it violates the law and rules of the commission by charging $1.50 for changing a name on its records, and that for a number of years the company has made a charge in excess of its tariff.

SEVENTH WARD

Mahoning School Parade Makes Hit

Large Turnout Witnesses Parade In Seventh Ward On Tuesday Afternoon

There was a large turnout of the folks in the ward, along the line of march, when the pupils of Mahoning school paraded through the streets Tuesday afternoon.

The parade was led by the Boy Scouts, Miss Nannie Mitchell, principal, and the newly organized instrumental band, directed by Miss Gwladys Thomas. A number of American flags were carried at the head of the procession, with winners of the parade, Miss Mitchell, and the pupils in the parade, which went along in good order. The playing of the band and their appearance in uniform drew the plaudits of the people.

Banners and posters, many of them with patriotic inscriptions, and urging the purchase of war stamps and bonds to help beat our enemies, were carried by the pupils, "Uncle Sam," "Miss Victory," "Miss Columbia," "Miss Liberty" also took part in the parade. There was a home-made "Jeep," a casket for Hitler and company, and other interesting items in the line of march. Oh, yes, a young lady was the player of the "big bass drum."

Second Precinct Again Report First

Again the second precinct of the seventh ward was the first in the city to send in a report Tuesday evening to The News. At 8:15 on the number of votes cast for candidates in Tuesday's election.

MESSANGER SERVICE SET FOR EMERGENCY

Bill Bollinger, chief messenger of the Seventh Ward, announces that the messengers of the ward are ready to meet any emergency. Messengers are one of the groups connected with the Organization of Civilian Defense. Each messenger is taking an intensive course in first aid, extinguishing incendiary bombs, protection and treatment of poisonous war gases.

Messengers are considered one of the most important branches of the Civilian Defense program. The youth of America are going all out for victory. Each air raid warning post is supplied with two or more messengers, each first aid station with two or more, and the fire department with five or more. Bollinger states that the ward may be assured that the messenger corps will be prepared for any blackout or air raid emergency.

AUXILIARY FIREMEN ELECT NEW SECRETARY

Members of the Auxiliary Firemen of the ward met at the Seventh ward fire department hall on Monday evening.

At the business session, presided over by John A. Phillips, Walter Evans resigned as secretary of the organization, on account of his being now employed at Youngstown. Earl Ruehle was elected secretary.

It is planned at the next meeting to take up further first aid instruction.

RETURNS TO CAMP

Private Albert Colella of Fort Eustis, Virginia, has returned after a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vito F. Colella of 105 West Wabash avenue.

NAMES OMITTED

In the report of the Christopher Columbus society auxiliary high school party, the name of Miss Louise Dattilo, as chairlady of arrangement.

LARGE CHRISTMAS MAIL RUSH EXPECTED

For two weeks preceding the deadline of November 1, set for mailing Christmas packages to soldiers overseas quite a large number of parcels were handled at the Mahoningtown office. It is believed by Eddie McBride, superintendent, that the Christmas mail this year will be exceedingly heavy because of the large amount of U. S. Service men in camps who will receive gifts from their friends and relatives.

WABASH BEARS ARE REORGANIZED

At a gathering of football enthusiasts in the ward, the Wabash Bears Football club was reorganized. The team will be composed of former stars of the New Castle High school football team. Willie Domenick has been chosen coach of the team. A couple of game have already been scheduled.

ARRIVES OVERSEAS

Marjorie Clonice, of Mahoningtown, R. D. 7, has received word that Private John V. Stickle, formerly of Mt. Jackson, has arrived safely at his destination overseas. Private Stickle is a graduate of Mt. Jackson high school, class of 1941.

Yule Mail Problem Holds Headaches

Postmaster Hanna Says Mail Car Shortage May Upset Schedules

A record Christmas mailing season which promises to tax to the utmost the ingenuity, the resourcefulness and ability of the entire New Castle post office force, loomed on the horizon today.

Postmaster William R. Hanna said the exigencies of war will bring many and varied problems, but he expressed full confidence in the ability of the postal men to meet them.

New problems the war posed in relation to Christmas mailing season are getting daily consideration at the post office. Post offices of the district face like problems.

Shortage of railroad mail cars this year, a fact of which the carriers have warned, may add greatly to the mail-moving difficulties unless the public in general co-operates and mails gift parcels early—especially to the soldiers in United States camps. Delays in some cases will be unavoidable.

New Castle may feel this shortage sharply, officials here said, and they urged that the public prepare soldier gifts for mailing early in December.

Red Army Morale Is Unshaken, Troops Confident Of Victory

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A close-up picture of the valiant Red army, its unshaken morale, its magnificent courage and its undeniable handicaps, is given in the following article by James E. Brown, International News Service Moscow correspondent, the third of a series of "Why Russia Can't Be Beaten.")

By JAMES E. BROWN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—They still sing at night.

This was the laconic answer given to me by a crippled artillery major while riding in an airplane from Kuibyshev to Baku when I asked him about the Red army at Stalingrad.

Thus, I think tells more about the Russian soldier than a page of statistics. And they do sing. One of the last things I saw when I left Moscow was a company of soldiers marching through the streets with towels under their arms going to the public baths roaming a lusty chant.

The words would have made Mademoiselle from Armentieres (even the censored verses) seem like a Mother Goose rhyme, but the Muscovites liked it. Everybody knows the tunes and probably the words, too.

Fighting For Life

The Red army is fighting for its life; they have lost over three and a half million men, but they are far from beaten. The Russians today have a good defensive machine, and if they had the equipment, they would have a good offensive army.

That is the heart-breaking story—"lack of equipment"; the Russian artillery is better than the German, but the Nazis have far more tanks and airplanes.

I went up to the Rzhev front soon after the Soviet offensive began, and it is revealing no military secret to state that Nazi aerial superiority was the reason the drive was halted.

Angry Russian officers told me how the Germans poured in fighters and bombers when the Red army was fighting in the suburbs of Rzhev itself. And it made the difference. Human endurance cannot stand against such a weight of metal.

Reds Are Confident

The officers were angry because it had happened to them so often. The Red army is amazingly confident; they all think they can beat the Fritz (as they call the Germans) if given an even chance.

But the Germans always have more tanks and airplanes. One might think that an army which has suffered as much as the Russians would have some self-doubts, but I have never encountered anything other than quiet confidence among the soldiers.

Seek Causes

They are not boastful, and they do not despise the Fritz, but they believe German officers in general lack imagination. They have repeatedly beaten the Germans in small engagements where maneuver and rapidity of movement counted, and where they themselves have been defeated they have always known the causes. This last characteristic seems to me important because I have been with armies which did not know the reasons for their own retreat.

their own faults, and the army newspaper, "Red Star," is constantly running articles of criticism that probably would not be allowed in any other country.

Self-criticism is a unique feature of the Soviet regime that extends to practically all institutions, but it is nevertheless startling in the midst of war to read some of their frank comments on the Red army.

Foreign correspondents are allowed to read these articles in "Red Star," but in some cases, they cannot cable them abroad because the Russians think they would be misinterpreted and used by the enemy as propaganda. The army newspaper sometimes deals with equal frankness with the campaigns of Allied nations.

Great Man-Power

Russia has a tremendous reservoir of man-power; hundreds of thousands of troops are constantly being trained in camps back of the Urals. Marshal Voroshilov directs this work, and he has done his job thoroughly. Foreign military observers believe they obtain the maximum efficiency in the brief time allotted to them; artillery pupils, for example, drill fourteen hours a day in just one operation, and a finished gun crew knows all there is to know about their weapon.

Every man knows how to do the other's job.

The same is true of their tank men. During the summer, I visited a camp where British and American tanks were being assembled. No instructors had arrived with the tanks but the Russians quickly mastered the operating technique and the officer in charge said trained crews were sent to the front with the machines ten days after their arrival at this base. It is true the Soviets took special care of these tanks, and the officers were usually veterans of campaigns against the Japanese and Finns as well as the Germans.

Handle U. S. Planes

Experts are also assigned to handle American planes. I spent a week-end at a fighter airfield where there were a great many Airacobras and Tomahawks and was greatly impressed by the personnel. Most of these pilots had won their decorations in fights against the Japanese in the little-publicized Eastern campaigns beginning with the battle of Changku-Feng.

The men said they liked our fighter planes, particularly the Air-cobra, although the Tricycle landing gear gives a little trouble on rough front-line fields. They quickly added this was no serious objection and hoped they would receive more soon.

Many Pilots

Russia has a great many more trained pilots than planes. The system used in England, and, probably, in America, of having first, second, and third lines of reserves is not used in the Soviet Union because they haven't got the planes. Every machine that can fly is in the air; when one pilot comes down the plane is refueled and another pilot takes it up. The only grounded planes are those being repaired or altered.

This obviously creates a risk, but the Russians have been forced to do it. The Germans, they reasoned, had to be stopped, and reserves would be useless to a conquered country.

The Red army has good esprit de corps; they are self-respecting, and, unlike the Russian army of the last war, they are mainly literate. They know exactly what they are fighting for. They have no illusions about the price of defeat.

They also have a strong historical perspective. The most popular book in the Soviet Union today is Tolstoy's "War and Peace," and the government has deliberately encouraged conflict with Napoleon's invasion. Their philosophy is summed up in the war slogan, "Everything For Defense of the Fatherland," and they take it to mean just that—everything.

Health Talks

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Infantile paralysis is not a disease of infants. It is so-called because a patient paralyzed by it, seems like an infant. It affects all ages but mostly young people.

Probably the disease has existed for a long time. Only recently has it been recognized and studied. New Castle is the first city to recognize it is catching and to quarantine patients suffering from it. That was during the severe epidemic of 1912.

It seems to be caused by a virus. Perhaps this virus reaches the patient through the mouth. It works something like typhoid fever. Drinking water may be the carrier of the disease. It does not seem to be catching like measles but like typhoid or dysentery.

It is such a frightening disease that when a few cases appear, the public becomes hysterical. We have no cases at present. Let us fortify ourselves now, so that we will be sensible when a case appears. The doctors are studying the disease all the time and learning a lot about it. Some day they will find the cause and learn how to prevent it. In the meantime let us use what information we have.

District Lags In Typewriter Drive

(Special To The News)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—A. H. Burchfield, Jr., Pittsburgh area director of the WPB, revealed today that only 1,600 typewriters have been turned in Western Pennsylvania to date. This area's goal in the drive to provide typewriters for the armed services has been set at 12,000.

"The army and navy are operating with less than one-half the number of typewriters needed. Every school, business, industry and other private or public organization must sell 25% of their typewriters to the government immediately if our fighting men are to have the equipment needed to do the job."

Common Penny Very Important In War

"Unfreezing" Pennies Releases Copper, Helps Keep Cost Of Living Down

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 4.—People have become so accustomed to talking of billions of dollars for war budgets that few would even imagine that the common penny would play an important role. Yet the common penny may solve two important problems if we can get it into circulation according to Dr. J. Ellwood Amos, associate professor of finance at the University of Pittsburgh.

Students in Dr. Amos' freshman finance class at Pitt recently started a campaign to bring back into circulation millions of pennies lying useless in piggy banks, in souvenir collections, and in discarded purses. The idea is to divert the tons of copper which ordinarily would be made into pennies to essential war needs.

In explaining the campaign, now on a national scale since other schools and colleges have taken it up, Dr. Amos says:

"The Mint has reduced the coinage of pennies by one-half in order to conserve copper. There are 164 million dollars in minor coins, pennies and nickels, outstanding. Of this number, one-fourth are pennies.

"It is almost a universal practice to save pennies, and a large portion of them are in piggy banks. If these can be brought into circulation, it will save tremendous quantities of copper.

"A dollar and a half in pennies weighs a pound. From a little over 100 students we collected more than 30,000 pennies in the first week of our campaign, and hope to raise at least a ton at the University."

Dr. Amos has a financial as well as a patriotic reason for the drive. People had better "unfreeze" their pennies, he says, if they do not want the cost of living to jump two per cent.

"If fewer pennies are minted, there will be fewer to use as change so that articles that sell for 98 cents will go to a dollar, while a 49 cent item will cost 50 cents.

"In the last month we minted 59 million pennies, which is one-half the monthly average for ordinary years. This resulted in saving 200 tons of copper."

American Medical Journal Shows Senator Pepper's Proposed Study Has Already Been Made

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The journal of the American Medical Association challenged on Tuesday a recommendation by a Senate subcommittee on manpower that an over-all civilian authority should be established to enroll physicians for the armed services.

The committee, headed by Sen. Claude Pepper, urged that a study be made to determine the number of doctors needed for civilian communities and that a census of medical men be taken.

"Had Senator Pepper's committee made inquiry, it would have discovered that the inventories proposed were made by the American Medical Association in 1940 and by the procurement and assignment service in 1941 and that studies are made week by week of the distribution of physicians in civilian communities," the journal said.

NO MEATLESS DAYS IN PHILADELPHIA HOTELS IS REPORT

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—Diners in Philadelphia's hotels and restaurants will continue to find meat dishes on the menu every day in the week until Uncle Sam says otherwise, it was learned Tuesday. The original plan of the Philadelphia Hotel Association for two meatless days a week was dropped when officials could not agree upon which two days were to be chosen. The eating establishments will follow the federal plan of letting the customer exercise voluntary restraint.

Juniors Of Red Cross Enrolling

Hope To Increase Membership This Year From 18,000 To 20,000 In Schools

BEN FRANKLIN REPORTS FIRST

Enrollment of the Junior Red Cross of the Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross is now under way and every school in the city and county is bending every effort to increase the membership of 1941 from 18,000 to well over 22,000.

Ben Franklin junior high school, under the sponsorship of Miss Eleanor Smith, is the first school to get its enrollment in, with a membership reported of 1720, and with more coming in.

Two hundred Christmas boxes, laden with useful gifts, have left the chapter for parts of Europe to bring Christmas cheer to children robbed of their homes and parents in this war. The Junior Red Cross of Lawrence county feel very interested in this project, for they have received letters from the children of Britain thanking them for their gifts. The girls seem to deeply appreciate the bobby pins sent last year and the boys always mention the sweets. These boxes were filled with toilet articles, small games, hair ribbons, ties, pencils, crayons and as many bobby pins as were available at this time.

The art classes of the two junior high schools are busy on menu covers and these will leave the chapter office the early part of the month and be on board one of our warships in time for the Christmas dinner; just a spot of bright Red Cross color for our boys at sea unable to be in touch with their home and family.

Halloween found the Jameson and New Castle hospitals remembered by the Hillsville Junior Red Cross, which made attractive favors for the unfortunates who are hospitalized on this day. A letter of appreciation was received by the Juniors from Miss Prudence Appleman, thanking them for their thought and expressing the hope that other holidays would be as well remembered. This is one program the Junior Red Cross of Lawrence county has faithfully carried out in the past five years, and all institutions have been remembered.

Clinton school of Big Beaver township, taught by Thomas M. Miller, is the first county school to enroll 100 per cent. The students are financing their Junior Red Cross activities by the collection of scrap. This school, with an enrollment of 18 students, went out and collected 2,514 pounds of scrap, which was sold for $10.04. They have sent their 50 cents to national for enrollment and the remainder will be devoted to the various Junior Red Cross activities.

To All of You, My Appreciation

Upon the face of the unofficial returns in Tuesday's election, I have been elected as the General Assemblyman to represent the City of New Castle in Harrisburg at the next session.

It is an honor that makes me both happy and humble. The only reason I won was the fact that my friends were so willing to present my case to the voters, and I shall never be able to express my appreciation fully. To my opponent Presley N. Jones, I extend my thanks for a sportsmanlike campaign.

May I reiterate the pledge I made in the primary campaign, that I will endeavor, with all my heart, to represent my city honestly and capably.

J. A. McLaughry, Jr. Named Trustee At Westminster

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 4.—James A. McLaughry Jr., of New Wilmington, has been elected to the Westminster college board of trustees, according to an announcement by Dr. Robert P. Galbreath. He was named to succeed his father, Judge J. A. McLaughry of Mercer, who resigned recently after 26 years of service.

The newly-elected member of the board, Mr. McLaughry, was graduated from Westminster in 1919, when he returned from overseas service after the World War had interrupted his education. He was a member of the championship football team of 1915, and captain of the team during the 1916-17 season.

A prominent business man, Mr. McLaughry is the founder and president of the Quality Tool corporation of New Wilmington. Two of his children have attended Westminster—Mary Beth who graduated last May and James, who plans to finish this year.

Judge McLaughry was the honor guest at a testimonial dinner held by the Mercer County Westminster alumni Friday evening in the Sharon U. P. church. He was presented with a plaque in recognition of his 26 years of service on the board of trustees, and for his work and efforts as a friend of Westminster.

Also a graduate of Westminster, with the class of 1884, Judge McLaughry has been associated with the Sharon school system for more than a score of years, and for 20 years has served on the Mercer county bench. The prominent jurist, who recently celebrated his 82nd birthday, sent five of his children to Westminster, including James, Jr., and "Tuss" McLaughry, well-known Brown university coach.

Claims War Has Changed Public's Idea Of Freedom

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The war is forcing a transition from national isolationism to international mindedness on the American public, Avery O. Craven, University of Chicago professor of American history, said at the University's 210th convocation.

"America's tradition of national self-sufficiency has been challenged by a conflict that is global in the sweep," said Prof. Craven. "If we have reached a point where aggressions on the weak in any part of the world is our business, we have also reached the point where the failure of democracy to function in our own states and cities is a thing which matters desperately to the least of mankind in the farthest corners of the world."

The new concept of democracy, Dr. Craven said, "insists that the social order exists for something besides individual gain, that it proves it can overcome greed in human society, that it can put integrity back into civilization."

"The resourcefulness, self-reliance and neighborliness which characterized pioneer days formed the basis of a strong and virile culture native to the American earth."

"Out of such a cultural heritage America can know the richness of a good society."

"Peace must come if civilization is to survive," he said, pointing out that the training of graduates for peace, justice and fair play will not be in vain.

Neely Trails For U. S. Senate From West Virginia

Propellers, Landing Gear Must Be Able To "Take It" In U. S. Tests

By WALTER KIERNAN

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WRIGHT FIELD, O., Nov. 4—Walk through the main gate of Wright Field and your ear is struck by a piercing whine—the sort of sound a huge generator might make running at top speed.

The sound comes from an experimental propeller whirling at high speed in an indoor test. It's been running for hours. It may run for days and weeks.

Wright Field isn't running it to see how much noise it can make or as a novel attraction. Wright Field is running it to test propellers, pushing it to its extreme speed, to see if the propeller can take it—to see if it's got guts.

When your boy is flying in combat it's no time for the propeller of his machine to give out or to get off time and set up a vibration which will shake his teeth out and disrupt his pilot performance.

Wright Field has a healthy respect for a good propeller and none at all for a poor one and that's why the newly designed propeller is twirling at very high speed—to see if it and its mates are good enough to put on the plane that will carry your boy.

Walk along the paths of Wright Field. High over head two propellers are drifting to earth. Those aren't men dangling at the end, they're dummies, but what is the purpose? The purpose is to find out whether a new experimental propeller has anything on the standard army air force propeller. There's no complaint with the standard propeller... they always open, they always bring their cargo down. Well why test another propeller? Because it may be a better one and the Army Air Service never gives up the search for better materials, better equipment.

An army photographer has his movie lens on the two propellers. When the film is developed and run, it will indicate which of two propellers opened the best, how they drifted by comparison with each other and some more technical points.

Move along to the materials laboratory. Here you will find tests underway on nylon, on synthetic rubber, on fabrics, on metal and metal alloys, on fuels.

Here is a plane with a landing gear that's supposed to be something pretty special. Wright Field will find out about that.

They'll run the plane into the static laboratory, load it to its rated capacity, haul it up toward the high ceiling and let 'er drop. If that landing gear is all it's supposed to be it will crack up.

If it isn't—well it will take the test. But your boy won't. He may have to sit down hard and fast some day but if his landing gear is of a type which has passed the tests at Wright Field it will be all right. The gear will take it.

Big Gun Output Breaks Record

New Methods, Inventions Step Up Watervliet Arsenal Cannon Production

By ARTHUR DRYDEN, JR.

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—The War Department revealed Tuesday that, while concentrating on aircraft, America in recent months has also broken all previous records for production of the coming big guns which are counted on to speak the last word in the battle with the Axis.

At the department's biggest cannon factory, the Watervliet Arsenal which has been turning out artillery near Albany, N. Y., since 1812, more cannon were manufactured between January, 1940, and January, 1941, than in the entire previous history of the arsenal.

And this pace is being constantly stepped up through the introduction of new methods and inventions, one of which has already reduced the time required for rifling a 75-millimeter gun from 10 hours to two hours, the department stated.

The disclosures were contained in the November-December issue of "Army Ordnance." The publication included an article by Brig. Gen. A. C. Gillespie, commander at the arsenal, cautiously describing latest trends in gun making.

After commenting wryly that Watervliet would have been forced to close down four years ago had it not been for a last-minute order from the navy, Gen. Gillespie continued:

"Today, Watervliet is making cannon in great quantities. Some guns made at the arsenal are so large that the railroads have difficulty in moving them. A 16-inch gun, carriage and all, will weigh close to 900 tons, and is 68 feet long.

"The 75-millimeter gun (which saved France in the last war) now is an entirely different weapon. From now on, this gun will be mounted primarily on tanks; its use with artillery on a wheeled carriage is being superseded by the 105-millimeter Howitzer."

The phenomenal reduction in the time required for rifling artillery was accomplished by a method known as "broaching." The rifling grooves within the gun barrels, up to the 6-inch gun in size, are made by drawing a series of broaches, gradually increasing in size, through the gun bore."

"She talked for 21 hours," headlined. What a long bridge party.

Franklin Annexes Junior High Title

"Patriots" Nail 15-0 Decision Over George Washington Tuesday Night

FLORA AND MOTSKO SPEARHEAD ATTACK

Close To 3,000 See Thrilling Setto; Walls Shows Class For Losers

Guided by Sam Flora, John Benigas and Joe Molsko, who lugged the piskin behind almost flawless blocking and a hard charging line, Ben Franklin's "Patriots" won the New Castle junior high diadem by defeating a fighting George Washington eleven, 15-0, Tuesday night at Taggart stadium.

Flora put on a Bob Lee-like show before approximately 3,000 spectators, most of them students. The Franklin stands wild with a showy dash to the Washington 49.

Molsko, filling the tough fullback spot, resembled a bull bitten by a bee as he ploughed through the heart of the line for timely gains. John Benigas, too, measured off long dashes on spectacular scampers between tackle and guard, and occasionally around the ends.

Start Drive on 20

The Cove Meadow piloted brigade scored first on a sustained drive that started on the 20. After Molsko blasted through for 7, Flora sent the Franklin stands wild with a showy dash to the Washington 49.

Molsko paraded to the 42 on a line jab, and Benigas hauled to the 26 on a reverse around left. After Flora was stopped Molsko trucked the ball twice, reaching the 15. A 5-yard offside penalty against Washington moved the oval to the 10. On two more center punches Molsko got to the 6. Molsko tried two more bucks, but could only reach the 4. On the next play Flora breezed across, cruising around right end behind lots of protection. A reverse, Benigas to Flora, netted the seventh marker.

A fourth down lateral, near mid-field and which resulted in a fumble, set Franklin rolling again near the close of the period. Flora unfurled another dramatic run as he swept right end, finally being tagged on the Washington 30 as the stanza ended. On a neatly executed reverse around left, Flora to Benigas, the Cunningham avenue boys invaded the 12 stripe.

Flora Over Again

Then Flora slowly started running around right end. As would-be tacklers approached him the elusive back stepped on the accelerator. As he reached the one a couple of Washingtonites grabbed him, but the carrier hauled them over along with the ball. Benigas' aerial to Sallie failed as Franklin sported a 13-0 edge.

Washington took the kickoff deep in its territory. A bad pass from center sent the ball bouncing along the Washington 9, where Post fell on it. Garberry then stepped back near the goal line to kick. Sallie broke through and blocked the attempted kick. The ball sailed into the northern fence and bounced back into the end zone. Referee "Tex" Richards ruled a safety, boosting the ante, 15-0.

In the third Post peddled the kickoff from the 5 to his 40. Gunn's pass to Walls was perfect on the Franklin 32. Walls then spun to the 29. A penalty set the Washingtonites back 5 yards, but Walls, showing remarkable power, got to the 23 next.

Betts made a pretty catch of Gunn's aerial over right end, stopping on the Franklin 11. Panella ran left end to the 9 and Walls rushed to the 6. After Walls was nailed, Gunn tried a pass into the end zone which was grounded, thwarting Washington's main scoring threat.

Molsko kicked beautifully to Walls who reached the 40. A holding penalty against Franklin gave the North Hillers the oval on the 31 as the third chapter ended. Washington, however, lost the ball on downs. Franklin threatened again, setting to the 17 before losing possession.

Game Thrilling

The tussle was packed with thrills from start to finish. As mentioned previously, Flora's running and Molsko's line plunging added un-

Army Is Crippled For "Irish" Game

Early Line Has N. D. Favored 8-5; Hill, Lombardo Are Out

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The price on the favored Notre Dame Fighting Irish football team to whip their bitter rivals of the U. S. military academy soared today when it was learned Army's squad is badly crippled and will be without the starting services of Ralph Speedhorse, Hill, and absolutely without Tom Lombardo, another of their best backs.

The early line had N. D. about 8 to 5 but we understand now that, barring encouraging reports from the West Point trainers, the Irish may be 11 or 12 to 5 by game time. Lombardo's loss to the squad for the all-important battle was revealed by Assistant Coach Major Harvey Jablonsky. He said that there was no chance of Tom's injured leg being patched up sufficiently and that Coach Earl Blaik to worry about he must also keep his fingers crossed and hope Capt. Hank Mazur's trick knee won't snap out of joint again.

Nazur's knee has been acting up all year and he banged it considerably in the losing game with Penn's Quakers last Saturday. He may also be held out of the starting lineup, but will certainly play, even if he has to hobble out there against the Irish with the aid of a crutch. Notre Dame has a big lead in the series with 20 victories to the Cadets' five, while three games ended in ties. The Soldiers haven't won since 1931 when they triumphed, 12-0. Last fall, after losing five straight games, the "worst" army team in history scored a moral victory by holding the highly favored Irish to a scoreless tie.

Grove City Begins Drilling For Titans

Bob Evans And Red Nugent On Injured List; Lack Good Punter

GROVE CITY, Nov. 4. — Bob Evans, varsity end, joined the injured leg brigade after the Slippery Rock game to create still another problem for Coach Charlie Ruffner of the Groves. Loss of Evans, and the uncertainty about Red Nugent leaves the Groves without a punter of any experience.

Prior to this year, Nugent had never handled the punting assignment, but he developed rapidly. Evans showed some promise in this department, but with both kickers likely to be out of the Westminster game here Saturday, Coach Ruffner is in a spot.

Try Out Kickers

Yesterday the Grover coach tried out every likely kicker on the squad and found that Machesney, regular back, looks like the best bet. His experience has been limited in competition to a pair of useful quick kicks in the Carnegie Tech game, but with intensive practice this week he should improve rapidly.

Still limping badly, triple-threat Red Nugent is unlikely to appear against Westminster, after watching the Slippery Rock game from the bench last week. Hutchison, the other injured regular, has apparently recovered.

Coach Ruffner is hoping for dry weather for drills this week and for the Titan game, as much of the new stuff he has been trying out depends on fast motion and sure ball-handling. The squad was picking up the stuff rapidly, but was unable to use it in the driving rain and mud of the Slippery Rock game which was decided on one bad punt and a bad center pass.

After the Westminster game, the Groves will be host to Marion Teachers for a Dad's Day feature November 14th.

Six 'Canes Play Final Home Tilt On Friday Night

Lee, Currie, Zubkowsky, Burris, Genkinger And Gunn Departing Gridsmen

LOCALS GO THRU LONG SCRIMMAGE

A half dozen footballers will flaunt the red and black colors of New Castle High before the home town cheering section for the last time on Friday night.

The athletes, whose names will go down among the scores of standouts produced by Phil Bridenbaugh, are:

Bob Lee, Wood street; Russell Currie, 507 Court street; John Zubkowsky, 1502 Wilson avenue; Harvey Burris, 121 North Shenango street; Dave Genkinger, 519 East Garfield avenue, and Jesse Gunn, 704 Etna street.

Lee Versatile

Lee, generally rated as the greatest griddler to wear the red and black, due to his general all around ability, will probably receive one of the most thunderous applause ever accorded an athlete when he leaves the Campbell game.

Unusually modest despite the accolades he has received in the past two seasons, Lee has spearheaded the attack all season. Despite the fact that every opponent has centered its efforts in stopping him, Lee has scored 16 touchdowns and

Grid Death Kneel Sounded By Phelan

Believes Professional Football Definitely Through For Duration

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 4.—James J. Phelan, head coach of the "Gallopin' Gaels" of St. Mary's college from California, today sounded the death knell of football as usual for 1943.

While his squad was practicing for a week-end intersectional contest with Duquesne university in Pittsburgh, Phelan said: "Do you know we felt bit guilty making this long trip east to play Fordham and the Dukes. Transportation problems are jamming trains everywhere and it doesn't seem right for a college football squad to be riding around adding to the congestion.

"Regardless of games already scheduled, I believe, if college football is played next season, it will have to be on a restricted basis, with rivals within a radius of about 50 miles.

"I attended the Cleveland-Brooklyn pro game last Sunday. Somehow those groups of healthy young athletes seemed inconsistent with the national picture in which thousands of American youths are so busy preparing for war. I think pro football is definitely through for the duration after this season."

But Phelan, while looking ahead to 1943 isn't forgetting 1942 and his game this Saturday against Duquesne. He had his sun-tanned squad in top physical condition for the contest and promised the Dukes plenty of trouble.

Shenango, Ellwood End Grid Warfare Coming Week-End

Lawrence county grid teams continue their dash toward the finish line this week-end.

With the exception of the New Castle-Campbell Memorial fracas, carded for Taggart stadium Friday night at 8 o'clock, local gridrons will be deserted.

While the Canes bid for their eighth triumph, Ellwood City invades Beaver Falls to battle the "Tigers". The Friday nocturnal clash winds up grid warfare for the "Wolverines".

Ellwood City takes the field with a record of six wins and three losses. The "Wolverines" slapped down Zelenople, Union, Farrell, Butler, Monaca and Midland and were setback by Rochester, Aliquippa and New Brighton.

Shenango township high completes a successful semester on Saturday afternoon, playing Greenville high in the Mercer county town.

The Nahas-coached tractor flattened Zelenople Freedom and Union township and was beaten by Evans City and Bessemer. The battle with big Hopewell ended in a 6-6 draw.

Westminster's Titans play one of their key encounters on Saturday afternoon, swapping blows with Grove City college at Grove City. The arch rivals should unravel a tussle crowded with thrills.

Union township high and Bessemer hung up their moosekins following games last week.

Panthers To Face Angered Ohio State

Pitt Bumps Into Aggregation Determined To Rebound Following Setback

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—A year ago a Pitt football team that one week later was to register the No. 1 upset of the 1941 season, first began to feel its own strength in the game with Ohio State.

The Panthers had been stumbling along last year, and came up to the Ohio State game in Pittsburgh with four losses against no wins, with but one touchdown scored as against 112 points for the opposition. Ohio had lost but once, a two-point margin affair against Northwestern.

But the Panthers were tough for the Buckeyes. Up until the last few minutes the score was 19-14 in favor of Ohio, a safety finally assuring a Scarlet and Grey win.

This year the Pitts are far more potent offensively. Only Duke has held the Panthers scoreless; Minnesota, Indiana, S. M. U. Great Lakes, and Carnegie Tech have yielded touchdowns.

With Jack Stetler and Tony DiMatteo now in good physical condition, Coach Charley Bowser now has three good backs whom he can use at either tail or wingback. The third, of course, is Bill Dutton.

Defensively the Pitt situation, however, is much as it was a year ago.

Fund Campaign Makes Progress

Total Is Swelled To $3,851.28 By Contributions On Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 4.—The Merchants and professional contributions to the United War Fund swelled the total for the third day of the campaign to $3,851.28. As stated yesterday, only a small portion of the contributions of the workers of the National Tube Company have been turned in so far and no reports have been received from any of the other industries as yet.

When the reports from the workers of the various mills are turned in the fund will swell by leaps and bounds. Campaign heads want to impress upon the community again that a house to house solicitation will not be taken here as everyone is being asked to contribute through their place of business or the mill where they work.

John Powell is heading up the job of soliciting those who are not in work or business here in town. Any one wishing to contribute to this great war campaign and have not been solicited are urged to make out their checks to the United War Fund and mail them to the Chamber of Commerce where proper credit will be given.

FAIR or FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Until further notice, the preponderance of football power this season is down where the guitars twang under the sweet magnolia trees, down in Dixie-land, and, strangely, the weakest sector in on the Pacific coast. For the first time in years they are without one good club this season in the far west.

Georgia and Georgia Tech have bowled over all opponents with unbroken streaks so far and if they can keep it up their meeting later on—in their last game of the season—will be the big game of the year insofar as the national situation is concerned, mythical as it may be. The best team on the coast, up to now, is U.C.L.A., but its successes have been only against the Pacific coast conference teams. The so-called Uclans couldn't and didn't beat Texas Christian and California pre-flighters. And they might yet get knocked off by some of their colleagues who have been knocked off by others.

East Is Shabby
The east, too, is a little shabby this season, with only Boston College still undefeated and untied, to challenge Georgia and Georgia Tech in the south and unwhipped, untied, unscored upon Tulsa out in the Missouri Valley.

The rest have dwindled gradually, especially last week end, when many a hope suddenly was blasted.

On the coming week-end the quartet of leading eleven with perfect records should be able to stretch their records by one more game, inasmuch as Georgia meets Kentucky, Tulsa goes against Oklahoma A. and M., and Boston College gets Temple. The opposition isn't particularly formidable.

Overshadowing all those games on the coming week end will be the annual encounter between Notre Dame and Army here in New York. This will be the big game of the day for no reason other than the hangover from the Rockne era at Notre Dame still persists.

This will be a good football game. There will be gold braid and other furbelows scattered through the stands. It will be colorful and possibly exciting. But it won't be important. Actually, this will be just another ball game between a couple of beaten clubs. The color will be more or less synthetic.

Besides being a great football coach Rock was a first class showman and he built this one into the thing it is today.

But the big game of this season must be the one between Georgia and Georgia Tech on November 28 if these two manage to go along undefeated until they finally meet each other. That's when the fur will fly. That's when two of the toughest rivals in the business will get together and it won't be a tea party in the parlor.

Southerners Rough

Some eastern coaches have complained this year over the roughness of southern football players. The eastern coaches think the southern boys are too eager to win and not sufficiently eager to see their opponents leave the field under their own power.

These eastern coaches should go down there into the sweet magnolia and twang guitar belt and watch that game between Georgia and Georgia Tech. They will get a vague idea at least of what blocking and tackling and playing to win really means.

Meantime, it's up to Boston College and Tulsa to carry the undefeated and untied banner for the rest of the nation, with the Pacific coast entirely out of it. Surprisingly they don't seem to have one good, sound solid club left there this year.

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 4.—Westminster Titans will ring down the curtain on their current collegiate schedule this Saturday November 7, when they travel to Grove City to meet Grove City college.

Gordon Named Most Valuable In A. L. Circles

Yankee Star Wins Over Teddy Williams By Vote Of 270 To 249

GETS 12 VOTES FOR FIRST PLACE

By JACK MAHON (International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—He looked like a sandlot ballplayer playing his first big game in front of his best girl in the world series but he was one of the greatest players in the game all through the regular season and, remembering it, the baseball writers of America have named Joseph Lowell Gordon of the N. Y. Yankees, the most valuable player in the American League for 1942!

Gordon, ace second baseman of his team and one of its leading hitters, received 270 votes to beat out Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox in one of the closest finishes since the writers started balloting for this honor in 1931. Williams received 249 markers while Johnny Pesky of Boston and Vernon Stephens of St. Louis, a couple of rookies in their first season in the majors, finished third and fourth, with 143 and 140 votes respectively.

Ernie Bonham and Joe DiMaggio, last year's winner of the Yankees, and Tex Hughson and Bobby Doerr of the Sox were also named in the first dozen on the final ballot.

Gordon, in addition to being the second straight Yankee to win the award, had his best year at the plate this season, finishing with a mark of .321. His brilliant play in the field also played an equally important part as the Yankees swept to easy victory in the pennant race.

Joe received 12 votes for first place, eight for second and three for third while Williams got nine for first, eight for second and four for third.

SIX 'CANES PLAY FINAL HOME TILT ON FRIDAY NIGHT

has done all the passing, punting has had a hand in practically all the scoring.

The boy across from Lee, Russ Currie, has produced countless thrills. As a runner, Currie is as fast as any member of the WPAL. The handsome figure presents an eye-catching picture as he darts gracefully and elusively along the sidelines.

Tall John Zubkowsky, hampered during most of the season due to an elbow injury, played magnificently throughout. Of late, Big John has unhooked marvelous defensive exhibitions. His other end mate, Harvey Burris, fast and cagey, has played predominant roles throughout. He, too, has been forced to sidetrack some of his finesse due to injuries.

Freddie-faced Dave Genkinger leaves little to be desired as a center. An accurate snapper back, Dave has backed up the line shrewdly.

Gunn Valuable

Jesse Gunn is one of the most valuable players on the varsity. A lineman by trade, Gunn stepped into the fullback berth when Elkins Brothers was hurt in the opening game. The injury bugaboo hit Gunn, too, forcing the colored athlete to play with a leather glove designed to protect a broken bone in his right hand.

Gunn has performed so well, I'd like to see him in action when he's in top form. On defense, Gunn fills a hole in the line with aplomb.

When Bridenbaugh starts counting noses next fall, he'll face an arduous task in trying to find these six replacements.

With the date of the Campbell battle drawing near, Coach Bridenbaugh pepped up the tempo of yesterday's workout, sending his proteges through a scrimmage.

With the second team lined up in Campbell's formation, the first stringers got a taste of Memorial's set up. The unbeaten 'Canes displayed lots of spirit in the workout.

Training Diligently

Across the line, Campbell is literally working until after dusk in preparation for the local brawl. Coach Knapic is telling the world that he's out to knock New Castle cold. If his team doesn't win, he's assuring all and sundry that the Pa. Newc lads will be in the toughest game of the season.

The ninth attraction will start at 8 o'clock. Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner announced.

Tickets for the game are on sale at The Sporting Goods store, 105 North Mercer street. Because this will be the farewell game locally, a capacity crowd may witness the clash.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL

It's all over... and not too many people took part in yesterday's election. Of course a lot of voters are away but there are more home than showed up at the polls. The G. O. P. can't win in without any trouble in a great many states. New York state came into the news very strongly because it has been 20 years since last they had the privilege of having a Republican Governor... But it makes no difference if your candidate was elected or not... we are all Citizens of these Great United States and we have one job to complete... and we must get busy completing it now. It's up to the folks on the home front to dig in... Is every one doing all they can to help keep unity so that war work might go along at top speed?

Dr. Womer the City Health Doctor made a statement the other day during a press conference. The text of his talk was published in yesterday's NEWS. The fact that rats were such dirty, filthy carrying animals, and that we do something about it here in town... He suggested that a campaign to rid the town of rats be started. We are in favor of such a campaign. Maybe some one could throw some light on the subject so that the city fathers might just see what is going on. Let's not wait until it's too late.

The scrap directors of the county and scrap men of the county are making a trip over the county bidding in the scrap that was collected during the month of October. From what we can gather the scrap in the county is bringing a very nice sum in most cases... this amount will be prorated among the farmers, according to the tonnage they turned in. The scrap here in the city will be sold and the money turned over to the local USO. Don't stop hunting scrap... much more is needed. Call the GNCA headquarters if you have a problem that you have no answer for... keep looking for scrap.

If you could get out and rake up the leaves and clear your yard the grass would do better next year. Last year we let a pile of leaves lie on the yard and this past spring we found that grass needed to be planted. So take a few hours and rake... it might make you feel better too.

Heavy Trading In Stock Market

Initial Prices Show Gains—Large Blocks Of Stock Traded

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The stock market today staged an initial rally of fractions to a point on the GOP victory at the polls, but profit-taking later cut down the gains.

Trading was extremely active on the early rise, with blocks of 1,000 to 5,000 shares sprinkled over the tape. First-hour sales expanded to 302,560 shares as against 166,450 shares in the same period Monday.

Before profit-taking was encountered, a number of representative stocks reached new peaks for the year. Included were Consolidated Edison, Southern Pacific, Illinois Central, Socony-Vacuum, Pure Oil, Flintkote, Studebaker, Hudson and Allied Stores.

American Telephone, Westinghouse Electric, Pepsi-Cola, Johns-Manville and Lima Locomotive were among the issues to show extreme gains of a point or more.

The pace slowed as leaders backed away from early highs. In a few instances, as in Bethlehem and U. S. Steel, gains were wiped out. However, the list maintained a generally firm undertone throughout the forenoon.

There were several backward stocks. Allied Chemicals and Douglas Aircraft each fell about a point. Standard Oil of N. J. and Western Union gave up fractions.

Woman Barrister Wins House Seat

Youthful, Pretty Congresswoman-At-Large Is Elected From New York State

(International News Service)

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 4.—When Clare Boothe Luce goes to Congress as Connecticut's first woman representative she'll have an equally youthful and pretty feminine companion in the female barrister New York state has just voted into the House of Representatives.

She's 33-year-old Winifred C. Stanley, a native of the Bronx, who carved herself out an enviable career after moving to Buffalo, where she was educated and graduated from the city's university magna cum laude in 1930.

The newly elected Republican congresswoman-at-large, who has had considerable political experience and done well as assistant district attorney in Erie county, did brilliant scholastic work. Her success continued after being admitted to the bar, and she was the first woman ever chosen to the nominating committee of the county bar association.

Her job as assistant prosecutor paid only $3,100 a year, but now she steps into a $10,000 post and the crossfire of congressional debate, where her friends are confident she'll hold her own as she has done in courtrooms since becoming a prosecutor in 1938.

To Halt Making Of Safety Razors On January 1

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The War Production Board today banned the manufacture of safety razors for civilian use, ordered the production of straight razors stopped January 1, and provided for a "substantial decrease" in the number of blades to be available for civilians.

Previously, safety razor production had been limited to 70 per cent of the 1940 output with no restriction on sales. From now on, however, they can be produced only for the military forces, export and lend-lease.

The WPB also drastically cut the production of straight razors for the last two months of this year. The industry will be converted to production of commando knives.

Draw Up Bill Against Hitler For War Crime

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Nov. 4.—Soviet Russia today drew up a bill for damages to be leveled against Adolf Hitler and Nazi Germany when the enemy is beaten to its knees and driven from this country.

An extraordinary decree signed by Mikhail I. Kalinin, chairman of the supreme council of peoples' commissars, established a commission selected from all walks of life to draft the measure in meticulous detail.

When completed, it will represent "eye for an eye" damages. The Nazi Reich will have to pay for every Russian killed, every Russian home demolished, every Russian church destroyed.

The decree did not disclose whether it is the Soviet intention to exact payment through the medium of the United Nations peace table or through a bill to be presented at the point of Russian bayonets in the final days of the war for immediate payment.

Leading Russian newspapers featured the decree today and published lengthy editorials pointing out that however much Germany may run up the bill before the tide of war turns, retribution already is assured for the torture and murder of hundreds of thousands of Soviet civilians.

The enslavement of hundreds of thousands of others by forced labor in Germany, the razing of scores of cities, the plundering of dozens of historic museums and the desecrating and looting of hundreds of churches, besides the immense destruction of individual and state property, also will be presented for repayment.

Capture Of Kodoka Cheers Allied Forces In New Guinea Area

By PAT ROBINSON

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Nov. 2.—(Delayed)—This was blue Monday for the Japs and a banner day for us.

Following news of the slaying American victory at Guadalcanal comes word that allied troops, including veterans of the Greek, Syrian and Egyptian campaigns, have succeeded in taking Kodoka on the far side of the Owen Stanley mountain range.

In addition, our Boeing Flying Fortresses turned back a strongly escorted Japanese convoy, scoring a direct hit on one large transport, damaging another and strafing a Jap destroyer from a low altitude.

Moreover, the Fortresses shot down five Zero fighters.

The Japs started their big drive from Kodoka on August 3 and in 44 days had reached Torabaiwa, only 32 miles from Port Moresby. Thimas looked gloomy indeed. Then we got ready for a counter-drive.

Alies Started Drive Sept. 28

Starting September 28, allied troops and planes went into action against the extended Nipponese lines. Day after day American planes bombed and strafed Jap rear areas, smashing trucks, bridges, troops, ammunition and fuel dumps and stores. Day by day allied optimism and morale grew.

Troops slogged daily through rain and mud, up and down perilous mountain trails, through some of the world's worst jungles. Never dry a minute, they slept wet and cold but they didn't mind. They had the Japs on the run and they intended to keep them running.

They stormed Torabaiwa ridge through a hail of fire from entrenched Jap positions. They banged through Nauro, Menari and Efoke and Kagi.

Here and there the Japs made determined stands in skillfully selected defense positions. Behind strong barbed wire, but our troops were not to be denied. They took Myola and after a fierce battle stormed into Templeton's Crossing, then forged ahead through Efoke, Aloia and Abuari.

Yanks Hit Supply Lines

Now the Japanese were feeling the pinch of hunger as the American boys daily destroyed their supply lines and strafed them along roads and through trees, hitting from the tree tops.

Up and over the crest of the Owen Stanley range went the troops. True, they suffered casualties and illness took its toll, but they inflicted twice as many casualties on the enemy.

Isarava fell next; then Deniki, and this morning long-sought Kodoka passed into our hands.

We had covered in 36 days the route the Japs had taken 44 days to travel.

Even as I write—late at night—word comes that we have rushed through Kodoka and are heading for Iovi, nine miles away.

Kodoka was found in ruins. Buildings were burned and delapidated, silent tribute to American strafing and bombing by Capt. Jack Wilson of Marion, Ill., Capt. Al Schling of Ottawa, Ill., and other pilots.

Kodoka has an excellent all-weather airstrip 1,000 yards long where in peace time three-engined Fords used to take in supplies and bring out rubber. There is a good road through the jungles from Kodoka to Buna 62 miles away, but on either side of the highway lie thick jungles.

Zeros Jumped Him

While the troops were marching to Kodoka, Flying Fortresses hit two large transports escorted by two destroyers north of Buna. Capt. Ed Scott of Hillendale (no state given) got a near miss on a large transport despite nine Zeros which jumped him. Scott said:

"One came head-on. I ducked. Sgt. Bill Butler of Wilmington,

Del., my top gunner, and Sgt. Otis Quaal of Effington, S. D., the side gunner, bagged him as he passed.

"Another Zero was attacking Lieut. Jim DeWolf of Kearney, Neb. He shot up past DeWolf toward us. My ball turret gunner, Corp. Bob Halley of Parkersburg, W. Va., poured 700 rounds into him at a few yards' distance. That Zero simply disintegrated and fell in pieces into the water below.

"I had to laugh at Major Bill Bann and my navigator, Lieut. Bob Sedwick, who kept yelling for me to get one Zero in position for them to take a crack at it with the side gun."

Lieut. William Fox speared one Jap plane by shooting off the cowling and the Jap fell into the sea. After these attacks the Jap fliers apparently turned back, heading for Gasmata, where later in the day Capt. Dick Ezzard scored a direct hit and two misses on a large transport which apparently already had been disabled from previous attacks. The ship was burning as he left. Two Zeros jumped him and he bagged one after a brief fight.

Says WPB Holds Up Needed Hospitals

Dr. Parren Tells Congress 216 Civilian Hospitals Delayed In Construction By WPB

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Dr. Thomas F. Parren, director of the United States Public Health Service, told congress on Tuesday that construction on 216 civilian hospitals has been halted or delayed through WPB curtailment orders. The additional hospitals, Dr. Parren said, are needed particularly in view of a threatened increase in the tubercular rate among civilians as a result of the war. His statements were made in testimony before the senate labor committee. Only two of 218 approved hospital projects have been completed, Dr. Parren said, with an additional 51 "on the way to completion."
